Gen'l James A Beaver Men #8

THE REPUBLICAN.

Established 1869. BELLEFONTE, PA., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1910. Vol. 40. No. 12.

MOORE QUITS FURNACES SHERER NEW PRESIDENT

Change Effected at Annual Meeting Here on Tuesday.

"COULDN'T GET ALONG"

Retiring President Gives His Explanation of Matter—Successor Has Made Rapid Advance By His Knowledge of Iron Business.

A surprise to business circles and the public in general was the announcement on Tuesday of the retirement of W. A. Moore and the election of J. Norman Sherer as president of the Bellefonte and Nittany furnaces. This action was taken at the annual meeting of the directors of the two furnaces The meeting was held at this place.

"It is true that I have retired as President of the two furnaces" said Mr. Moore after the meeting. "I have no comment to make other than that I couldn't get along with them and they, I guess, couldn't get along with me. That's all I care to say about the matter. My plans are somewhat indefinite. I shall take a rest of two or three months. During this time I probably shall stay here in Bellefonte, Mrs. Moore and I like Bellefonte and Bellefonte people and we will be very sorry to go away."

Those attending the meeting at which Mr. Sherer was chosen to succeed Mr. Moore included D. F. Bush and William Dettee, of New York, and W. J. McHugh, of Philadelphia. At the conclusion of the meeting the visitors had dinner at the Bush House, others present including Mr. Sherer, Wallace H. Gephart and Frank Warfield, President and General Freight Agent, respectively, of the Central Railroad Company of Pennsylvania. Later in the evening a business meeting was held at the Bush House, at which Harry C. Valentine, superintendent of the Scotia mines also was present.

The election of Mr. Sherer as President of the two furnaces was especially gratifying news to his many friends. Although still a young man he is noted for his grasp of the iron business, both from a technical and practical viewpoint. He was placed in general charge of both the Bellefonte and Nittany furnaces when George Grimm some time ago retired as superintendent of the Nittany. In addition to continuing as manager of the furnaces he now becomes president of the two companies.

Mr. Moore probably will re-enter the service of the firm of Rogers, Brown & Company, which company was at one time identified extensively in a financial way with the furnaces.

TYRONE'S BIG BLAZE

Robert T. Garman Was Among Those Burned Out on Monday.

Tyrone experienced one of the worst fires in its history on Monday morning, last, three of the largest business buildings in the town being almost completely destroyed. One of those to be burned out was Robert T. Garman, a former Bellefonte boy who has become one of Tyrone's most substantial and progressive business men. His magnificent jewelry store in the Garman Building was gutted by the flames. It is his intention to rebuild at once. Mr. Garman carried about $10,000 insurance on his building and stock. He will resume business at once in the Arlington block.

The fire was caused by a torch in the hands of Mrs. William Martz, who occupied apartments in the DeFerie block. Some water pipes had frozen and she was endeavoring to thaw them out when the flames from the torch in her hand ignited the wood work. By the time the firemen arrived the building was in flames. The freezing weather greatly retarded the firemen and the flames quickly spread from the DeFerie block to the Garman and Minnich buildings. Fortunately the fire was got under control before it had caused much damage to the Minnich block.

Royal Arcanum Officers.

At a meeting of the Royal Arcanum, of Philipsburg, on Thursday evening of last week, the following officers were installed: C. U. Hoffer, regent; E. C. Fish, vice regent; George Hermann, orator; A. H. Duncan, secretary; Sol. Schmidt, collector; R. R. Rowles, chaplain; Ralph E. Shontz, guide; Edgar Hummell, warden; H. H. Hewitt, sitting past regent. A vacancy in the position of sentry has been caused by the death of S. W. Cross, which is noted elsewhere in this paper.

For all the news read "The Republican," $1 a year in advance.

OLD SOLDIER'S DEATH

Dewey Douglas Found Dead in Bed Near Munson Station.

Dewey Douglas, a pioneer resident of Munson and a gallant soldier in the Civil war, was found dead in bed at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Shaddock, near Munson station, on Monday morning last. He had not been well for several weeks, but was able to be about and as late as Friday of last week transacted business in Munson.

Mr. Douglas was a native of Huntingdon county, but for many years had resided at Munson, where he was engaged in the lumbering business. In later years he engaged in farming. He was about 79 years of age. During the Civil war he served in Company A, 45th Pennsylvania Volunteers. He is survived by three sons and two daughters: Dewey, who is well known as an engineer for the New York Central, and who resides at Vilas; Wilbur, residing near Pittsburg; James, residing in the West, and Mrs. John Shughrue, of Clearfield, and Mrs. John Shaddock, of Munson.

SAMUEL W. CROSS.

Samuel Wingate Cross, an aged and well known resident of Philipsburg, died on Saturday, last, after an extended illness with stomach trouble. Deceased was born at Centre Furnace, November 6, 1837, making his age 72 years, 2 months and 30 days. He was a son of Andrew and Jane Brown Cross, who were well known and highly respected residents of Centre County. In 1849 he removed to Morgan Run, Clearfield County, where he remained for about ten years on the place known as the Ed. Albert farm. In 1859 he went to Virginia, but returned to Clearfield County with the breaking out of the Civil War and enlisted as a private in Company K, 8th Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers. At the expiration of two years he was honorably discharged on account of disabilities. He then returned to Philipsburg and shortly afterward was married to Miss Jamma Batcheler, to which union two sons and two daughters were born: Miss Jane B., of Atlantic City; Charles A., of Cumberland, Md.; Mrs. William Sheriff, of Philipsburg, and Thomas B., of Curwensville. He is also survived by one sister, Mrs. William Albert, of Lancaster, and two half-brothers and one half-sister: Simeon Cross, of Clearfield; Thaddeus Cross, of State College, and Mrs. James McBlain, of Clearfield. Mr. Cross was an active member of the Philipsburg lodge of I. O. O. F. for more than 42 years and was also prominently identified with the Royal Arcanum, serving for many years as Sentry of the Philipsburg council. Interment was made from his late home on Tuesday.

MRS. ELEANOR SEVILLA BORMAN.

Early on Sunday morning, last, death ended the beautiful life of Mrs. Eleanor Sevilla Borman, at her late home, at Tyrone. She had been in failing health for some time and for several weeks had been confined to her bed. Deceased was born in West Beaver township, Union county, April 26, 1840, and was aged 68 years, 9 months and 13 days. When a child she removed with her parents to Bellefonte. About twenty years ago she removed to Tyrone, making that place her home ever since. Her husband, Elias Borman, died about thirty years ago. Surviving her are the following children: Mrs. Harvey Lutz, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Sarah Haupt, Mrs. James Noll and John and David Borman, of Tyrone. A brother, Henry Barth, of Snyder county, also survives. Funeral services were held yesterday, conducted by Rev. Dr. James B. Stein, of Tyrone, and Rev. C. C. Shuey, of Bellefonte.

MRS. JAMES FORCEY.

Mrs. James A. Forcey, of Philipsburg, died at her late home at that place on Sunday. She had been ill but one week, death being due to pneumonia. The deceased, whose maiden name was Miss Esther Viola Dunlap, was born at Luthersburg, Pa., April 18th, 1854, making her age 45 years, 9 months and 19 days. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Dunlap, and was married to James A. Forcey at DuBois, September 9, 1882. For a time she resided at Munson, but about six years ago removed to Philipsburg. She is survived by her husband and three brothers and two sisters: M. H. Dunlap, Rockton: J. A. Dunlap, Pittsburg; M. B. Dunlap, Knoxville, Pa.; Mrs. John W. Clauser, Harrington, Del., and Mrs. Mary Shankle, of Rockton.

MRS. HARRIET ROTE.

Mrs. Harriet Rote, an aged resident of Bellefonte, died on Sunday evening at the home of John Dawson, on Halfmoon Hill. Death was due to infirmities incident to advanced years. Mrs. Rote was about 82 years of age and was born at Coleville. She is survived by one brother, James Rote, of Pittsburg. Interment was made yesterday.

(Continued on fourth Page.)

MUST CARE FOR CHILD REGARDLESS OF AGE

Parent "Legally and Morally Liable," Rules Judge Orvis.

'ONE DAY AFTER DEATH'

Court Directs Notes of J. E. Walker, of Rebersburg, Shall Be So Worded - Paying for Maintenance of 35 Years Old Lunatic Son.

That a parent is both "legally and morally liable" for the care of a child, even though the latter may be over 21 years of age, is the opinion handed down yesterday by Judge Orvis in the case of the Poor District of Miles township vs. J. E. Walker, of Rebersburg. Judge Orvis entered a decree directing Mr. Walker to pay each year for the maintenance of a lunatic son who is in the Danville asylum.

Judge Orvis' opinion is interestingly unique. Aside from his opinion that the fact that a child is more than 21 years of age does not relieve the parent of liability, he provides a novel method for the payment by Mr. Walker for the care of his son.

L. A. Walker, the lunatic son, is over 35 years of age. The father, J. E. Walker, contended that he was an old man and that he had a wife and daughter to support. The father is over 70 years of age. He has property at Rebersburg worth about $5,000.

Judge Orvis, in his decree, directs the father to pay $118, claimed to be due for maintenance of the son to June, 1909, and to pay each year the amount due as actual cost of maintenance. In order that the parent may not suffer inconvenience and that he may have the use of his money during his lifetime, Judge Orvis directs that he each year give a note to the Miles township Poor District, each note to be made payable "one day after death." In his decree Judge Orvis directs that execution on the notes shall be stayed until further notice by the Court.

In this manner, while the parent is compelled to pay for the maintenance of his invalid son, such notes as he may give in payment therefor, cannot be collected until his (the parent's) death.

The case constitutes one of the most novel legal questions before the Centre County courts in many years. Additional interest is attached to it by the opinion and decree of Judge Orvis, upsetting the commonly acepted belief that once a child has reached the age of 21 years the parent is no longer liable or responsible.

Old-Fashioned Singing Society.

Representatives of the several churches of Bellefonte are arranging to hold a series of old-fashioned singing meetings in the chapel of the Presbyterian Church. The first of these song-fests will be held tomorrow (Friday) evening at 7:30 o'clock. Professor Philip Meyer, of Centre Hall, has been engaged to lead the singing at the several meetings. It is proposed to hold one meeting a week for probably eight or nine weeks. Those having the matter in hand desire to extend the public a cordial invitation to attend and join in the singing. If the public display the interest in the meetings that is hoped for, lots of fun is in store for all who attend. The meetings are not intended to be for the members of any one church, but for all the people. Admission free.

Hospital Notes.

Andrew Sincoe, Bellefonte; admitted for treatment.

Mrs. S. M. Huff, Milesburg; improving.

Antonio Jose, foot amputated. Condition satisfactory.

Alice Barnhart, Bellefonte; improving.

Willis Poorman, of Milesburg; discharged.

John Smith, of Bellefonte; discharged.

We wish to thank F. H. Clemson, of Buffalo Run, for his generous donation of four bushels of potatoes, two bushels of apples, six boxes of honey, one gallon of apple butter and twelve jars of fruit.

Examined for Enumerators.

Quite a number of applicants for appointment as census enumerators were examined on Saturday, last, at Bellefonte. Examinations also were held at Philipsburg and State College. The papers of the several applicants have been forwarded to Census Supervisor Samuel R. Hamilton, who has charge of the Twenty-first Congressional district. He will, in turn, forward them to Washington for inspection. It is expected that the names of the several appointees will be announced in the next two or three weeks.

NUMEROUS HOT FIGHTS AT POLLS ON TUESDAY

Big Battle in Bellefonte is Against Justice Keichline.

LAST SPRING ELECTION

Hereafter All Elections Will be Held in November—Four Townships Will Vote on Question of Establishing Work Road Tax System.

There will be a number of sharp contests at the polls in Centre County on Tuesday, February 15th. Incidentally, this will be the last February election to be held in Pennsylvania. By the adoption of the constitutional amendment last November, February elections are abolished after that to be held on Tuesday of next week.

By far, the most spirited contest in Bellefonte is that between John M. Keichline, Democratic, and Henry D. Brown, Republican, for Justice of the Peace in the South and West wards. W. C. Cassidy was nominated by the Republicans to oppose Justice Keichline, but he withdrew and Mr. Brown was substituted on the ticket.

Public confidence in the integrity and conservatism of Mr. Brown, coupled with the fact that many Democrats are in open revolt against Justice Keichline, has prompted many residents of the two wards to predict the latter's defeat. Judge Orvis' scathing arraignment of Justice Keichline's methods in returning cases to Court is being effectively used by the latter's opponents in the closing days of the campaign.

Both candidates are making a personal canvass of the two wards, endeavoring to get every voter to the polls. Justice Keichline is a seasoned campaigner and is employing every means to ward off defeat.

No contest is being made on the offices of Borough Treasurer and Overseer of the Poor. Treasurer Edward J. Gebert, Republican, whose present term has proved so satisfactory to the public, is also on the Democratic ticket and his re-election is, of course, assured. Overseer of the Poor Patrick H. Gherrity, Democratic, has no Republican opposition and is, therefore, certain of re-election.

For Borough Auditor the Democrats have nominated two candidates, W. Miles Walker for the one-year term, and Wagner Geiss, for the three-years' term. The Republicans have named but one candidate, John Curtin, who is employed at the Centre County Bank and whose sterling worth and fitness for the office are at once conceded.

Aside from choosing election officers each of the three wards in Bellefonte will elect a member of Council and also a member of the School Board. For Council in the North ward, Harry Keller, Republican, has no opponent, Rev. John Hewitt, nominated by the Democrats, having withdrawn from the ticket. Mr. Keller is thus assured of another term. For School Director, Charles F. Cooke, Republican, is being opposed by J. Henry Wetzel, Democratic, but in all probability will be easily elected. For Justice of the Peace in the ward, William H. Musser, Republican, has no opposition.

In the South ward the battle over the office of Justice of the Peace is overshadowing the contest for Council and School Director. The Democrats have renominated Philip L. Beezer for Council. His Republican opponent is Lawyer A. A. Dale. Former Senator William C. Heinle is seeking re-election as School Director on the Democratic ticket. His Republican opponent is C. K. Hicklin.

In the West ward the re-election of Dominique Judge, for Council, on the Democratic ticket, is a foregone conclusion. The withdrawal of Roger S. Brouse, his Republican opponent, gives Mr. Judge a clear field. For School Director the Republicans have nominated Darius Waite. His Democratic opponent is L. H. Gettig.

For High Constable James Matthews is on the Democratic ticket, with no opposition.

In addition to these several officers to be voted for on Tuesday in Bellefonte, the electors will be called on to ratify or repudiate the $32,000 school loan authorized by the School Board in March, 1909. The election is to further insure the legality of the loan. The loan has been negotiated and the money been long since spent on the new school building at Allegheny and Linn Streets. By all means the loan should be ratified and the honor of the Borough sustained. To defeat the loan would be to herald it broadcast that Bellefonte Borough contracted a debt and then repudiated it.

Each voting precinct in the county will choose election officers and also elect Township or Borough officers. In a number of instances there was a tie vote at the primaries for Township officers. In such cases the county commissioners drew lots to determine which candidate should go to the ticket.

In Howard, Union, Patton and Half-Moon townships the voters will determine whether road tax shall be payable in cash or in labor on the roads. It is anticipated that in each of the four towaships a majority will be recorded in favor of substituting the work road tax system.

WEDDING SURPRISE

Miss Myrtle Longacre Secretly Wedded Two Weeks Ago.

When, a little more than two weeks ago, the stock market was fluctuating wildly and the telephone wires were cutting up all sorts of tricks, nobody suspected that Cupid was causing all the disturbance. The mystery was only solved when Miss Myrtle Longacre, chief operator for the Bell Telephone Company, at this place, tendered her resignation and blushingly explained to the management that she had become tired of the telephone bells and had turned to the sweet music of the wedding bells.

Just about the same time, up in the office of Strawn the broker, Larwence A. Freeman was humming a merry tune as he marked up quotations on the stock board. Traders who saw the market slumping off couldn't understand why he should be so particularly joyous as he posted up the gloomy quotations.

For Miss Longacre had already become Mrs. Freeman and Dan Cupid was sitting back and laughing with joy. Hence the excitement at the Telephone Exchange and the cause of Mr. Freeman's elation as he reeled off daily quotations to waiting traders.

Rev. Dr. J. Allison Platts, the bride's pastor, had been selected to perform the ceremony but when the popular young couple decided to have it over with and at once, the minister could not be located. It was 7.30 in the evening when they cautiously stole into the office of Justice of the Peace Keichline. Mr. Freeman had the necessary license and when they emerged a few minutes later the knot had been tied.

Miss Longacre, that was, returned to her duties as a chief operator on the following Monday. That a woman could keep a secret was demonstrated so effectually that not until a fews days ago did she announce the fact of her marriage. To the management she explained that she would continue at work until the end of the present month in order that somebody might be secured to take her place. Since that time she has been busy receiving the congratulations and best wishes of her many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman will live for the present with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Longacre.

PRETTY CHURCH WEDDING

Miss Elizabeth Boal Thompson is Bride of Louis Crossman.

Lemont was the scene of a pretty wedding yesterday when Miss Elizabeth Boal Thompson became the bride of Louis Crossman, of North Yahama, Washington. The ceremony was performed at 2.30 o'clock, with Rev. W. K. Harnish officiating. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Crossman went from the church to the train. They will go direct to the bride-groom's home.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John I. Thompson and is a popular and accomplished young woman. The groom is a former State College student. For a number of years he has been engaged as a fruit grower in the far West.

HAZEL—CORMAN.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the United Evangelical Church parsonage on Thursday evening, last, when Ralph G. Hazel and Miss Maude M. Corman were united in marriage by their pastor, Rev. J. F. Hower. The young couple have many friends who wish them much happiness and joy in their journey through life. The groom is an industrious young man and is employed at the grocery store of R. S. Brouse.

MILLER—MCNUTT.

Charles Miller, a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, of Philipsburg, and who is engaged in the tailoring business at Indiana, Pa., was married on Thursday of last week Miss Bertha McNutt, of Indiana. The groom is well known in Philipsburg.

Installing Railroad Telephones.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is installing a telephone system, on the Bald Eagle Valley line, to supplant the present telegraph system. The several agents along the line have been advised of the proposed change.

PRETTY COLLEGE GIRL SEIZED WITH LOCK JAW

Florence May Thomas in Jefferson Hospital, at Philadelphia.

SCRATCHED BY NEEDLE

Trifling Wound on Finger Developed Blood Poison—Is 19 Years Old and Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Thomas, of State College.

Lying on a cot in the Jefferson Hospital, at Philadelphia, with her jaws rigidly locked, is Miss Florence May Thomas, a pretty 19-year-old girl of State College. A trifling injury to a finger on her right hand, caused by a needle two weeks ago, developed blood poison and this resulted in the loss of all control of the muscles of her jaws.

At the bedside in constant attendance on the young girl is her mother, Mrs. Clyde Thomas. The attending physicians hold out hope for her recovery. Marked improvement has been noted in the last two or three days, the jaws relaxing about one-eighth of an inch. Clyde Thomas, the father of the patient sufferer, visited the hospital this week, returning home with the cheering hope of the physicians that his daughter's life might be spared.

The case is an unusually pathetic one and is exciting the keenest interest and sympathy of the friends of the young girl and her parents. On Monday evening they were given a shock when a telegram was received announcing Miss Thomas' death. It developed, however, that the telegram was in error and the grief of the heart-broken father and sorrowing friends was turned to joy with a second message saying that Miss Thomas was still alive and that the physicians were hopeful of being able to restore her to health.

It was in September [illegible] Miss Thomas went to [illegible] contemplated entering [illegible] waiting for a vacancy she secured employment in a shirt-waist-factory. It was while at her work several weeks ago that she scratched a finger with a needle. While painful the injury seemed to be so trifling that little or no attention was paid to it. The wound quickly healed and Miss Thomas thought no more about it.

About two weeks ago she became conscious of the fact that something was wrong. Her right hand began to swell and soon the entire arm became infected. When a physician was called in he saw at a glance that blood poisoning had developed. He ordered Miss Thomas removed to the Jefferson Hospital and her mother was hastily summoned to her bedside.

"My daughter is somewhat better and we think she will get well," said Mr. Thomas to a representative of "The Republican" on returning from Philadelphia. "Her jaws are almost closed and she has no control over the muscles of her face. I have just come home from Philadelphia and the physicians told me that they thought everything would come around all right. It was reported that she was dead but I have just received a telegram from her mother, who is at the hospital, saying that May is alive and getting better."

Mrs. Thomas will remain with her daughter until the latter is sufficiently recovered to warrant her removal to her home at State College.

$640 in Cash Burned.

In a fire, which on Saturday night, last, destroyed the home of Frederick Pepper, at Troy, near Philipsburg, $640 in cash, which was in the house at the time, was also burned. Mr. Pepper and his family escaped from the burning building in their night clothes. A high wind was blowing at the time and the house was completely destroyed with nearly all its contents.

Had Collar Bone Broken.

R. U. Bitner, of Spring Mills, a car inspector, met with a painful accident while working at Avis one day last week. He was struck by a car, sustained a fractured collar bone and also severe bruises about the head and body. He was removed yesterday to his home at Spring Mills.

License Transferred.

Judge Orvis on Monday approved the application for the transfer of the license for the Garman House from Richard Sheehe to J. McClellan Davis. The latter has taken charge of the hotel and trusts that he will be favored with a share of the public patronage.

[illegible] Organ Co.

PRISONERS' STRAW RIDE

Moved When Location of County Seat Was Changed.

Up in Madison County they have been moving the county seat from Morrisville, which is two miles and a half from any railroad, to Wampsville, which is a name rather than a town, but has the advantage of being on the New York Central. The new buildings constructed, the furniture and records removed, new homes established by the county officials, there remained the single task of transporting the prisoners locked up in the old county jail to the new jail.

There were just 24 of these prisoners, says the New York Sun, four of whom were court prisoners, that is prisoners awaiting trial on more or less serious charges or serving terms imposed by the County Court. The remaining 20 were charged with minor offenses, and for the most part were ordinary tramps who had followed the custom of many of their kind and had drifted into jail with the coming of cold weather that they might receive the advantages of regular meals and a more or less warm place to sleep until spring weather should make the road again agreeable.

The Sheriff and his men talked over the matter of transporting the prisoners. The taxpayers would be willing that the four court prisoners should have their railroad fares paid out of the county treasury, but there was doubt about the willingness to pay also the fares of 20 ablebodied hoboes, with the fares in addition of a sufficient number of guards. On the other hand it would certainly not be possible to leave them locked up in the old jail after the fire had been allowed to go out.

There is a certain amount of good fellowship in a country jail during the long winter months, and this fact finally solved the problem. The distance across country between the two villages is very much less than the distance by rail, while the sleighing at the time was excellent. So these 20 "guests of the Sheriff" were sounded as to their views of the matter of getting a little fresh air. All gave their approval of the idea.

The Sheriff chartered a big sleigh, caused it to be prepared with a hay rack and a spreading of clean straw, had blankets over this and two heavy farm horses drew the sleigh up to the jail. The 20 prisoners filed out and jumped on the blanket-covered straw and the party was off for the 15 or 20-mile ride.

Straw rides of the sort are a popular diversion among the young people of up-State counties, but it is doubtful if many of the prisoners ever had participated [illegible] affair before. The dep[illegible] them, but there wa[illegible] them, since th[illegible] risk of trying to escape until warmer weather set in. The day was fine, a portion of tobacco was served out to the prisoners, and in the words of local news chronicles, "a pleasant time was had by all."

The Prize Corn Grower.

Who was it said: "Shoemaker, stick to your last?" Well, anyhow, this is along that line. John R. Overstreet, of Franklin County, Indiana, has stuck to growing corn all his life. Some years ago he was realizing that he was growing the best corn in the State. That was merely a spark to the fuel of his ambition. Why not grow the best corn in the country, in the world? Three or four years ago the National Corn Association was organized. They held the first national corn exposition in Chicago. An Indiana farmer got first prize. Mr. Overstreet waxed wroth. So he studied and worked, improved his seed and planted the best kernels. This year he grew the best ten ears of corn ever raised in the world. The Indiana Corn Growers' Association gave him a thousand-dollar silver cup. "Shoemaker, stick to your last!" Mr. Overstreet is a farmer. He says so. He lives a quiet life on his farm, is a man of considerable culture, and will never, he says, exchange his rustic life for the cliff-dwelling money-grubbing of urban residence. —Leslie's.

Can't look well or feel well with impure blood feeding your body. Keep the blood pure with Burdock Blood Bitters. Eat simply, take excercise, keep clean and you will have long life.

Wheat and Corn Exports.

Wheat, including flour, exports from the United States and Canada for the week ending February 3, as reported by telegraph to Bradstreet's aggregate 2,462,698 bushels, against 3,118,178 bushels last week and 1,802,976 the same week last year. For the 31 weeks ending February 3 exports are 101,209,041 bushels, against 158,845,405 bushels in the corresponding period last year. Corn exports for the week are 1,240,860 bushels, against 1,378,656 bushels last week and 1,106,885 bushels in 1909. For the thirty-one weeks ending February 3 corn exports are 15,299,873 bushels, against 16,721,770 bushels last year.

Sore Lungs and Raw Lungs.

Most people know the feeling, and the miserable state of ill heatlh it indicates. All people should know that Foley's Honey and Tar, the greatest throat and lung remedy, will quickly cure the soreness and restore a normal condition. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

A HARD STRUGGLE

Many a Bellefonte Citizen Finds the Struggle Hard.

With a back constantly aching,
With distressing urinary disorders,
Daily existence is but a struggle.
No need to keep it up.
Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you
Bellefonte people endorse this claim:

Mrs. C. Johnson, 365 East Bishop Street, Bellefonte, Pa., says: "I cannot say too much in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills, for they are the best remedy I ever used for backache and other symptoms of kidney complaint. At one time my back was so lame and painful that I could hardly get around and dizzy spells were common. I was restless at night and my kidneys gave me great annoyance, the secretions being too frequent in passage. On the advice of a member of my family who had used Doan's Kidney Pills with benefit, I procured a supply at Green's Pharmacy Co. and they did me more good than any medicine I had previously taken. The passages of the kidney secretions were regulated and the pain and lameness in my back was removed. I heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone afflicted with kidney complaint." (Statement given October 21, 1907.)

PERMANENT RELIEF.

On November 23, 1909, Mrs. Johnson was interviewed and she said: "I still have unlimited confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills. They permanently cured me of kidney trouble and I have had no need of a kidney medicine during the past two years. Other members of my family have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and in each case benefit has been received."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Small Enterprises That Paid.

"A Pennsylvania girl writes me that she gathered and washed feathers and down for a whole year," says Anna Steese Richardson in Woman's Home Companion for February. "The next summer she made it up into pillows, using attractive ticking and chintz, and sold them to guests at a mountain resort eight miles away. She offered the pillows at a trifle less than the price asked in city shops, but the appeal to city folk lay in the fact that they were real feather pillows from the country.

"A girl who lived in New Jersey, within commuting distance of New York, started a hotbed raising fresh lettuce and radishes. These she boldly carried to New York in a suit-case and sold to other people working in the office where she was employed. To-day the girl has a good-sized truck-farm, employs several hands and does not have to work in a city office.

"Away out in Nebraska a farmer's daughter tried to do the same thing, believing that she could induce the green-grocers in the nearest town to handle her fresh lettuce and radishes rather than those shipped in by commission merchants. The dealers were afraid to give her any encouragement. Her supply might not be up to the standard. She might not raise enough to supply them and then they would not know how much to expect from her and how much from the commission merchants!

"The girl made a house-to-house canvass among housewives and offered them freshly-picked vegetables at the same price they had been paying for the hothouse supply shipped in. She was just brave enough not to cut under the prices of the local grocers. Her list of customers grew. She came to town three times a week. The green-grocers discovered that she was cutting into their trade. They capitulated. Today she supplies them all, sends hothouse products to town three times a week in winter, and garden truck every day in summer.

"Another girl visiting a meat-packing plant was told by the guide of the poor quality of aprons furnished the butchers. She boldly offered to provide aprons of better material and appealed to the purchasing agent and got her chauce."

A Safeguard To Children.

"Our two children of six and eight years have been since infancy subject to colds and croup. About three years ago I started to use Foley's Honey and Tar, and it has never failed to prevent and cure these troubles. It is the only medicine I can get the children to take without a row." The above from W. C. Ornstein, Green Bay, Wis., duplicates the experience of thousands of other users of Foley's Honey and Tar. Sold by C. M. Parrish

A specific for pain- Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, strongest, cheapest liniment ever devised. A household remedy in America for 25 yerrs.

Horse Coughs, Stuffy Colds.

Pain in the chest and sore lungs, are symptoms that quickly develop into an illness if the cold is not cured. Foley's Honey and Tar stops the cough, heals and eases the congested parts, and brings quick relief.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY PILLS
FOR BACKACHE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER

SIGNED FIRST CONTRACT

A. J. Reach, Well Known Philadelphian, Was the Man.

Two men are now living in Philadelphia, who were among the first three baseball players to sign contracts with clubs. They are A. J. Reach and Dick McBride. This interesting fact has been brought to light by the scouring of old records by George L. Moreland, of Pittsburg, who bats in the 400 class whenever statistics of the national game are in question.

Mr. Moreland says: "I have just made a discovery which is known to mighty few men, and yet it is of great interest to baseball fans. Ask anyone familiar with baseball, who was the first man to sign a baseball contract?"

"If they tried to answer at all they would probably reply, 'George Wright.'

"The original signer, though, lives in Philadelphia, and his name is 'Al.' Reach. 'Al.' signed early in the sixties and the following year Dick McBride and Lipp Pike followed his example. It is a remarkable thing that forty-five years after these men put their names to contracts that both should be living in the same city, for, of course, each was past the 20 year mark when he signed.

"Tens of thousands of men, taking the major and minor league clubs scattered throughout the country, have signed contracts since 'Al.' Reach, but I doubt if any one of them, even those who are now stars in the game, can boast of the physical development and sound health of the original signer.

"The chances are that not one in one thousand of them will ever approach the 70-year mark looking as hale and hearty as "Al," or A. J., as his partner, "Uncle Ben" Shibe, of the Athletics, delights to call him.

"Mr. Reach is the finest example I can recall of what the simple life leads to—perfect health. Outdoor recreation has always been his hobby.

"Baseball claimed him for many years, and there was seldom a day that he didn't play the game when the weather was fit, and he wrote his name high in the annals of the pastime. Next cricket drew his attention, and he became a devotee of the sport. When the bicycle came into vogue he could be seen daily pedaling around the city on his wheel.

"Of recent years golf has had him as an enthusiast. Strong and vigorous, 'Al.' Reach, who has lived a temperate life, with so many hours a day to business and so many to outdoor recreation, is the finest kind of an example of how to live well and never grow old.

'Any stranger who might chance to meet him certainly never would take him for a man old enough to have been a star in baseball before the Civil war, and later the first signer of a contract in a club."

GIVES AWAY $2.50 TO THE SICK.

The Widely Known Nerve Specialist, Franklin Miles, M. D. LL. B., Gives His Book and $2.50 Worht of Neuropthict Treatment Free.

Sick people whose nerves are weak or deranged, who have a weak heart, liver, stomach or kidneys; blues headache, dizziness, drowsiness of dullness; nervous dyspepsia, irritability, cold hands and feet, backache or rheumatism, shortness of breath, palpitation, irregular heart or dropsy, nervousness or sleeplessness, trembling or hysteria, would do well to accept Dr. Miles' liberal offer. You may never have another such opportunity.

His Neuropathic Treatments for this class of diseases are the result of 25 years' study and immense experience and are thoroughly scientific and remarkably successful. They are so successful that we do not hesitate to offer a trial free to any sick one.

Every treatment is specially prepared for each patient and consists of a curative elixir, tonic table eliminating pills, and a plaster. Years of trial have demonstrated that his treatment is three times as successful as that usually prescribed by physicians.

Mr. U. McLean, Neola, Iowa, cured after having heart trouble 12 years. Mrs. Jenette Ady, Sandusky, O., cured of nervous and heart troubles after others failed. Mr. L. M. Simmons, Lamb, Ills., cured of kidney trouble after several physicians failed. Mrs. Joseph Wisler, Peru, Ind., "Owe my life to your treatment." Many cures from your state sent upon request.

Write the Doctor at once. Describe your disease, stating age, weight how long sick, etc. He will send you free, a $2.50 Neuropathic Treatment prepared especially for you, valuable advice and his new book on "Neuropathy"—"Curing through the nerves." Address, Dr. Frankling Miles, Dept. N., 480 to 490 Main St., Elkhart, Ind.

Hives, eczema, itch or salt rheum sets you crazy. Can't bear the touch of your clothing. Doan's Ointment cures the most obstinate cases. Why suffer? All druggists sell it.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

HE'S A DEFINITION

George Thorn for Everything and Everybody at Harrisburg.

The man who wants to know anything about corporation law, taxation, legislation, officials, politics, ballot laws, filing certificates, election contests, or any and everything pertaining to the affairs of Pennsylvania, should have a line on George Thorn. And this line is not hard to get, for a more gracious affable and approachable gentleman never in the history of Penn State quite so well filled the bill in every phase of action about the Capital City.

From the curving shores of Erie, where memories of Perry ever linger, to the salted waters of Delaware Bay, the name of George Thorn is synonymous with all that is anything from obliging to chivalric. Commenting on the place and service of this young premier among true friends, efficient and reputable, the Phila. Bulletin, of recent date, says:

Encyciopedia noun, derived from the Greek, "a comprehensive summary of knowledge."

Walking adjective, from the verb to walk.

The late Mr. Webster of dictionary fame, gave these definitions, and the remarkable part about it is that he happened to hit a man in our midst to the queen's taste. Harrisburg being the State's capital has many repositories of knowledge, facts, information and other things which are worth while having when someone wants to find out something. Up at the capitol when anyone goes astray on a point connected with the constitution, election laws, nominations, Board of Pardons, charters, corporation regulations, etc., etc., to x, y and z, they turn to Mr. Thorn. George D. Thorn, late of Gettysburg, Adams county. Mr. Thorn is officially chief clerk of the department of the secretary of the commonwealth and unofficially grand advisor in general to those who want to know Mr. Thorn was born in time to be present at the battle of Gettysburg, but he spent the three days in the cellar, where he was sent by his careful parents, being at the same time about four years old. When he grew older he aided in turning Adams county over to the Republican party a few times, and, finding that the town was too small to sustain the weight of the battle and himself, secured an appointment on the "Hill." He has been here even since and the "Hill" won't let him go. He has absorbed a vast amount of information and it is always ready in terse, telephonic, packages. Incidentally he has found time to collaborate in a law book or two, the very first hand book ever gotten out about practice before the Board of Pardons, to say nothing of issuing sailing charts for political committees and keeping Capitol Hill up to the scratch as the real live place to find out.

Testing Antitoxins.

In recent years the use of tuberculin, serums, antitoxins, etc., has become a feature in the treatment of diseases both of men and domestic animals. As a large number of such preparations have appeared on the market, some being of uncertain strength and others worthless, Congress wisely authorized the Department of Agriculture to buy samples in the market and test the various preparations recommended for veterinary use and publish the results.

Among the antitoxins on the market for veterinary use is that prepared for use against tetanus, the disease commonly spoken of as "lockjaw." The animals most commonly attacked by this disease are horses and mules. The fact that many unsatisfactory results have followed the use of such antitoxins has led the department to test the preparations put on the market by several manufacturers both American and foreign, and the results have just been published in Bulletin 121 of the Bureau of Animal Industry. The striking feature of the results is the great variation in the strength of these antitoxins. It should be noted that the anitoxin for use on human beings is required by law to be of a certain known strength, so that the physician using it knows exactly what he is doing. But the veterinarian who uses a preparation of unknown strength often fails to save the animal treated.

The tests showed that the "veterinary tetanus antitoxins very extravagant in their unit of strength, and some are comparatively weak in antitoxic potency." The results indicate the need for strict government supervision of such preparations for the benefit of the veterinarians and the livestock interests of the country. N. Y. Tribune, Farmer.

Any skin itching is a temper-tester. The more you scratch the worse it itches. Doan's Ointment cures piles, eczema-any skin itching. All drug stores.

FOLEY'S ORINO LAXATIVE
FOR STOMACH TROUBLE and CONSTIPATION

That Beef Boycott.

Now there comes the startling rumor that the ultimate consumer, in a grim and surly humor, rising up his piece to speak,
Says, b'jings, he's getting tired, the commandment has expired, and no longer he's required to present the other cheek!
So with gracious condescension you will kindly give attention while he makes his little mention of his purpose, which, in brief,
Is to make a speedy trial of a bit of self denial and, despite the trust's de-crial, quit the vice of eating beef!
—Chicago Tribune.

She Understood.

She looked at the well filled shelves.

"Are all these new books?" she asked.

"Yes," he answered.

"And how many are really worth reading?"

"Madam," he replied, "do you ask me as a bookseller or as a friend?"

She looked at him and understood and went away empty handed.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Handicapped.

The people in the flat next door
Are kindly, but
They harbor that decided bore,
A barking mutt.
But little peace are we enjoying.
A barking dog is most annoying.

The rules forbid it, as they know,
So says the lease.
If we complained he'd have to go.
And we'd get peace.
The landlord would uphold us, maybe,
But we can't kick; we have a baby.
—Kansas City Journal.

The Country Store.

"There seem to be a great many captains among those loiterers around the stove," ventured the coffee drummer.

"Yes, stranger," laughed the old storekeeper; "they are all captains."

"And I suppose you could find all kinds of captains among them."

"Yes, excepting captains of industry."—Chicago News.

Aeroplane Fighters.

Will there be fighting aeroplanes
And deadly stuff that fiercely rains
On helpless cities far below,
On shattered ranks of fleeing foe?

Why, they are fighting even now—
They're mixing in a noisy row—
They fight for gold and not for fame,
About the patents each doth claim.
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

These Three.

"What are the three known dimensions?" asked the teacher at the night school.

"The world, the flesh and the devil!" gasped the shaggy haired pupil, taken by surprise and unable at the moment to get his mental bearings.—Chicago Tribune.

A Triolet.

I sent her the rose
Which she wore in her hair.
That's how my coin goes.
I sent her the rose,
But I wonder who knows
If the question is fair.
I paid for the rose.
But who paid for the hair?
—Detroit Free Press.

Chameleon Hair.

"What do you think of the color of Mrs. Smith's hair since she came from Europe?" asked one of the Cats.

"Well," said the other, "I have seen her with four different colors, and I think on the whole I like this best."—New York Press.

A Tender Feast.

A tenderfoot went out to Yuma,
And there he encountered a puma,
And later they found
Just a spot on the ground
And a puma in very good huma.
—Douglas (A. T.) Dispatch.

A Musical Plaster.

"Tommy, what has become of that porous plaster I sent you after for your father?"

"Listen, mamma. That's it Ethel's playing now on the piano player!"—Yonkers Statesman.

It Often Happens.

She used to laugh when first he called
And sneered about him to her friends,
But they are man and wife today,
For this is how it often ends.
—Detroit Free Press.

Think It Over.

"Hopefulness," said Uncle Eben, "is a grand thing, but it don' take de place of energy. De man dat sits aroun' waitin' foh a thaw is de one dat has to be dug out'n a snowdrif'."—Washington Star.

The Dentist.

If I were but a dentist
I'd never have to beg—
The dentist pulls your aching teeth,
And then he pulls your leg!
—Cleveland Leader.

Twenty-five Years of It.

"Why do people have silver weddings, pa?"

"Just to show to the world what their powers of endurance have been."—Judge.

Fate's Differences.

In life some fearful contrasts lurk.
Each has its own position.
Some men are born to go to work
And some to go a-fishing.
—Philadelphia Ledger.

Love—Its Way.

"Do you think love goes where it's sent?"

"Yes, if properly expressed."—Judge.

The Optimist.

He built his airy castle high,
Just kept right on a-piling
Until it tumbled—then the guy
Crawled from under smiling.
—Chicago News.

No Reason for Alarm.

One word in conclusion on a troublesome point about which we physicians have to worry a great deal and the public still more. One often hears the statement: "All this fuss about tuberculosis is terrible for the poor victims who are made social outcasts, to their great distress and to the alarm of their families." There is no justification for this feeling.

There is no risk in close contact with tuberculosis if the patient is ordinarily careful about the sputum. If one is morbidly afraid of the disease and desires a place of safety where one can get away from its germs, go to some first-class sanatorium for tuberculosis. There are fewer germs there in the air and on the floor than in any other place in the country, and there is very little risk of catching the disease in the house of a tuberculosis patient if he takes good care of the sputum, and sees that it is properly disinfected. Dr. William Osler, in Woman's Home Companion for February.

Pain Weakens

Headache, rheumatism, neuralgia, or pains of any nature weaken the system—they are a strain upon the nerves. Almost instant relief can be obtained by taking Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills, and without any bad after-effects. Take one on first indication of an attack—it will ward it off. They are a pleasant little tablet, sold by druggists everywhere, 25 doses 25 cents; never sold in bulk.

"I was subject to constant headaches for a period of four years. At times I was almost unfitted for the work in which I am engaged, that of station agent. Through the advice of a friend I tried Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and the result has been that I have entirely eradicated my system of those continuous headaches that follow a continual mental strain. They have done for me all that is claimed for them."
O. L. RUSSELL,
Agt. C. & N. W. Ry., Battle Creek, Ia.

"I have used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for a year now for neuralgia and find there is nothing like them. They surely have been a blessing to me." MRS. M. J. HAMILTON, Upper Alton, Ills.

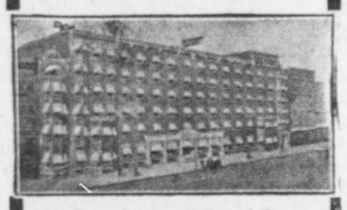
Your druggist sells Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and we authorize him to return the price of first package (only) if it fails to benefit you.

Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind

WINDSOR HOTEL
W. T. BRUBAKER, Manager.
European, $1.00 per day and up
American, $2.50 per day and up



Midway between Broad Street Station and Reading Terminal on Filbert Street.
The only moderate priced hotel of reputation and consequence in PHILADELPHIA

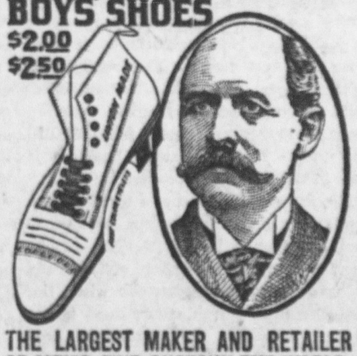
W·L·DOUGLAS
$3. $3.50 & $4. SHOES
BOYS' SHOES
$2.00
$2.50



THE LARGEST MAKER AND RETAILER OF MEN'S FINE SHOES IN THE WORLD.

"SUPERIOR TO OTHER MAKES."
"I have worn W. L. Douglas shoes for the past six years, and always find they are far superior to all other high grade shoes in style, comfort and durability." W. G. JONES, 119 Howard Ave., Utica, N. Y.

If I could take you into my large factories at Brockton, Mass., and show you how carefully W. L. Douglas shoes are made, you would realize why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer, and are of greater value than any other make.

CAUTION—See that W. L. Douglas name and price is stamped on the bottom. Take No Substitute. If your dealer cannot fit you with W. L. Douglas shoes write for Mail Order Catalog. W. L. Douglas, Brockton Mass. —— FOR SALE BY ——

A. C. MINGLE

FOLEY'S KIDNEY PILLS
for backache, rheumatism, kidney or bladder trouble, and urinary irregularities.
Foley's Kidney Pills purify the blood, restore lost vitality and vigor. Refuse substitutes.
For sale at C M Parrish Drug Store

BEANS IN BOSTON.

The Millions of Quarts That Are Annually Baked and Eaten.

Boston baked beans are known around the globe. In the city of Boston alone about 32,000,000 quarts of baked beans are devoured annually, to say nothing of the pork that goes with them and the brown bread that is also served. There are factories or bakeries which handle nothing but baked beans from one year's end to the other. One of the largest of these, which supplies restaurants wholly, bakes 14,000 quarts of beans a week. Other bakeries also furnish brown bread, while nearly every bakeshop that makes bread, pastry and pies also bakes beans several times a week. There are bakeries with ovens that will hold 2,000 quarts each.

The preparation and baking of beans are interesting operations. In establishments where beans only are baked it is done on a huge scale. There are great kettles that hold two or three bushels of beans, and into these the beans are put to soak and parboil. Then the pots of earthenware, varying in size from one quart to two gallons, are ranged around on tables and filled from the big kettles. Every quart of beans is carefully picked over and sorted and cleaned of all dirt and dead beans before being put into the kettles. The ovens are huge brick affairs, glowing red with heat. Experts consider that beans cannot be properly cooked except in a brick oven. Some of the ovens hold 2,000 quarts each. Filled with the loaded pots, they present a sight worth beholding. So hot are the ovens that long handled flat shovels are used to push the pots in and take them out.—New York Tribune.

ASBESTUS.

There Are Many Varieties of This Peculiar, Puzzling Substance.

Of all the queer minerals which nature seems to have provided for no other purpose than that man might show his ingenuity in their use nothing compares to that mineralogical vegetable asbestus, which in its native state is both fibrous and crystalline, elastic and yet brittle, a stone which will float and which may be carded, spun and woven like flax or silk. Asbestus is mined in practically every section of the globe, and the asbestus of the various countries differs as greatly in appearance as does the foliage of the trees and plants native to each. It is alike in but one feature—that it is absolutely indestructible, no known combinations of acids even affecting the strength or appearance of its fiber and the fiercest flames leaving it unscathed. It is a nonconductor of heat and of electricity.

Some varieties of asbestus are as compact as marble and will take the highest polish; others have loose, silky fibers. "Mountain wood" is a variety presenting an irregular filamentous structure, like wood, and other varieties, taking their names from their resemblance to the various materials, are rock, cork, mountain leather, fossil paper and fossil flax.

Asbestus is really a variety of amphibole or hornblende, composed of separable filaments with silky luster. Its colors are various shades of white, gray or green, passing into brown, red or black. Although as perishable as grass, it is older than any order of animal or vegetable life on earth.

Respectfully Referred.

Chief Justice Marshall used to narrate with great glee the following correspondence on a point of honor between Governor Giles of Virginia and Patrick Henry. The governor wrote:

Sir—I understand that you have called me a bobtail politician. I wish to know if it be true and, if true, your meaning.
W. R. GILES.

Patrick Henry's reply came promptly:

Sir—I do not recollect calling you a bobtail politician at any time, but think it probable that I have. I can't say what I did mean, but if you will tell me what you think I meant I will say whether you are correct or not. Very respectfully,
PATRICK HENRY.

This was leaving it to Giles with a vengeance; but, as there was no further correspondence, the governor of Virginia must have read satisfaction somewhere between the lines of Patrick Henry's brilliantly equivocal reply.

A Mean Accusation.

The plump and pretty waitress was being teased by a youthful male boarder when a sedate middle aged man entered the dining room. To him she made prompt appeal.

"Is there anything on my face?" she demanded.

"Why, yes," was the reply, after a lengthy scrutiny. "There is some cuticle on it."

"Oh, there is not!" she said in high dudgeon and flounced out of the room. —Lippincott's.

There They Were.

"I am here, gentlemen," explained the pickpocket to his fellow prisoners, "as the result of a moment of abstraction." "And I am here," said the incendiary, "because of an unfortunate habit of making light of things." "And I," said the forger, "on account of a simple desire to make a name for myself." "And I," added the burglar, "through nothing but taking advantage of an opening which offered in a large mercantile establishment in town."

Ignorance.

Elsie—They're twins, aren't they? Bob (scornfully)—Twins, you duffer! Can't you see one's a boy and one is a girl?—London Opinion.

Do not put off under false pretexts. —Homer.

A "Hoodoo" Buddha.

Lady Dorothy Nevill in her "Reminiscences" records an example of the so called "malevolent influence" of an inanimate object upon the fortunes of its possessors similar to that said to have been exerted by the Hope diamond, now sunk beneath the waves. From the day a miniature Buddha from Burma of charming workmanship entered her house everything went amiss. Its installation in the drawing room "was followed by a perfect avalanche of catastrophes." Within a week a son failed in business. Household pets came to tragic ends. A favorite pony was suddenly paralyzed, "and this on the very eve of an election in which it was to assist by conveying Conservative voters to the poll," from which it is inferred that the Buddha was not favorable to the Tory party. A few days later a neighboring chimney crashed down upon a wing of Lady Dorothy's house, doing much damage. Shortly afterward the Buddha was sent on loan to the Indian museum, where, after some minor disturbances, it settled quietly down and has since remained.

Postponed Her Bath.

Miss Flora Shaw as correspondent of the London Times was once traveling through Africa in a bullock wagon. The sun was blazing; the bullocks were slow; the dust was indescribable. She was making for a frontier town, where she anticipated the comforts of a bath. At the entrance to the place Miss Shaw, dead beat, dusty and irritable, found herself confronted with the ordeal of a public reception. The officials read her a welcome. She was as civil as she could be. Then she bolted for the hotel. She gave but one order—"Hot water, quick!"

She sat on the edge of the bed and waited. Some minutes passed. At last a black servant entered with a tin vessel, in which there was something steaming. Seizing it, Miss Shaw poured out a milky, odoriferous liquid. She turned to the servant for an explanation.

The hotel was very short of water. As a distinguished guest a point had been stretched for her. They had sent her the water in which the fish had just been boiled!

The Victorious One.

An Indianapolis business man was marooned on election night in 1904 in an Illinois village, says the Saturday Evening Post. Naturally he was interested in the election. He wanted to find out whether Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Parker had won. He began investigating and discovered that the telephone girl quit at 6 o'clock and that the telegraph agent at the station knocked off work after the evening train went through, which was rarely later than 6 p. m.

At 8 o'clock the landlord shut up the hotel, telling his guest to take the room at the head of the stairs when he was ready to go to bed. No news was to be had, and the business man went to bed, that being all he could do.

Next morning he was awakened by the heavy tread of boots on the plank sidewalk. He threw up the window and asked the passerby, "Say, who was elected?"

"I was, by heck," replied the man proudly. "Third term for constable."

He "Dassent."

The selection of the right word to convey one's meaning is sometimes more important than the rules of grammar. So it appeared to the bridge policeman, who is an alert sociological student. An east side resident of foreign birth was taken before the magistrate in one of the police courts charged with a trivial offense.

"Tell him he must not do it again. He is discharged," the magistrate said to the policeman on the bridge.

"The judge says you dassent do it. Understand?" almost shouted the policeman to the prisoner.

"Hold on, officer; I didn't dare him to break the law again. I said 'must not.'"

"That's all right, your honor. He understands what I said better'n he would what you said." explained the policeman. And the prisoner seemed to think so too.—New York Sun.

Riding Away With the Bride.

In many of the border counties of England the quaint old bridal customs of hundreds of years ago are still in vogue. The parents carefully abstain from appearing at the marriage ceremony, clinging to the idea that the bridegroom still rides away on a foaming steed with his bride behind him as in the good old days. The brides prefer the custom to the modern method of being given away at the altar in the orthodox fashion.

Wanted the Proof.

"You look sweet enough to kiss," says the impressed man.

"So many gentlemen tell me that," coyly answers the fair girl.

"Ah! That should make you happy."

"But they merely say that," she replies. "They merely tell me the facts in the case and never prove their statements."

He Got It.

Eva—As we strolled along he wagered a box of chocolates that I couldn't say the word "kiss." Belinda—And did you try? Eva—Yes, but he took the word from my very lips.

A Big Shadow.

We are told that the "smallest hair throws a shadow." And so it does. It throws a shadow over your appetite when you find it in your food.—Exchange.

A good deed is never lost. He who sows courtesy reaps friendship, and he who plants kindness gathers love.

HIS VERY WORDS.

The Property Man Cheerfully Quoted Them to Beerbohm Tree.

Beerbohm Tree, the English actor, had a comical experience on his first appearance as the corpulent Falstaff. In the last act he had arranged that Falstaff, disconcerted by gibes and buffets of the fairies in Windsor forest, should make one herculean effort to climb the oak tree. The pegs that were to serve as supports for that tree were always conspicuous by their absence. On the morning before the performance Mr. Tree was told they should positively be fixed on the tree. The morning came, but with it no pegs. Eloquence was stifled; even invective faltered. He pointed to the tree and with the calm of despair blurted out to the defaulter, "No pegs!"

Such an ejaculation, spoken more in sorrow than in anger, would, he hoped, appeal to that last remnant of conscience which even the papier mache bosom of a property man might be supposed to retain. In the evening there was a dress rehearsal, but still no pegs could be seen. Mr. Tree's form quivered—beneath the padding—with pentup emotions, and in a torrent of passion and a voice shaken by righteous wrath he exclaimed:

"Where are those pegs?"

"Pegs—pegs!" exclaimed the property master, with exasperating affability. "Why, guv'nor, what was your words to me this morning? 'No pegs.' And there ain't none."—London Tit-Bits.

WATER EXPERTS.

Feats of Diving That Are Performed by Swedish Swimmers.

The Swedes delight in "combination diving," and two men will perform many clever feats together. One of the most grotesque of these is when one man stands upright on a springboard and tightly clasps another man's body round the waist, holding him head downward and putting his own head through the man's legs. When the upright man springs from the board he throws his legs into the air so that the two men, clasping each other tightly round the waist, turn a somersault, and when they reach the water the man who started upside down arrives feet foremost.

The handspring dive is a very effective specialty of Swedish swimmers. The performer takes off from the diving board with hands instead of feet, turning his body in order to descend feet foremost or somersaulting to arrive head downward.

Very graceful also is the back dive, in which the spring is made backward, the body turning toward the springboard.

Double somersault dives are made from platforms thirty to fifty feet high, the diver making two turns in the air and entering the water feet foremost.—London Saturday Review.

An Effective Alarm.

Flannigan had been discharged from the artillery and went to live in a cottage in his native village. One day he left on a week's visit to some distant relatives, and a day later the village constable was standing at his door when he heard the sudden boom of the rusty cannon Flannigan had mounted on his front hedge.

An instant later a brick whizzed past the constable's ear and smashed his door to smithereens.

The indignant officer, followed by the populace, rushed to Flannigan's cottage and found it still tenantless, but showing signs of recent burgling.

When Flannigan returned the next week he heard the news and was delighted.

"Oi prepared for burglars afore Oi wint away," he said, "by thrainin' the gun on yer front door, constable, and connicting it by sacret wires to the doors and windies and loading it wid a brick. An' it hit the door slap in the middle? Bedad, Oi wasn't a gunlayer in the artillery for nothin'!"—Pearson's Weekly.

Why Hale Would Not Do.

When N. O. Nelson, the profit sharer, decided to transfer his co-operative business from St. Louis to the country he looked about carefully for a favorable location. His personal friend Dr. Edward Everett Hale accompanied him on one of his tours in search of this. A site was chosen, and a name for it was then in order. Among others, Hale was considered, but rejected because, as Mr. Nelson said, "the name differs from its distinguished owner in being only four letters long, while he was six feet four or thereabouts." So Leclaire was chosen in honor of the pioneer French profit sharer.—World's Work.

A Case of Overcrowding.

"I don't see why I keep on getting so much fatter. I only eat two meals a day."

"I know, my love, but you shouldn't insist upon crowding your breakfast and luncheon into one meal and your dinner and a late supper into the other."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

An Angel.

"My wife always forgives my faults."

"I've got you skinned to death."

"How?"

"My wife forgets mine."—Cleveland Leader.

No Glutton.

The Unsuccessful Counsel—I'm very sorry I could not do more for you, my man. The Prisoner—Ho! Don't apologize, old sport. Five years is enough. —London Sketch.

Glory is, after all, the thing which has the best chance of not being altogether vanity.—Renan.

Four and Its Multiple of Ten.

The number four was anciently esteemed the most perfect of all, being the arithmetical mean between one and seven. Omah, the second caliph, said, "Four things come not back—the spoken word, the sped arrow, the past life, the neglected opportunity." In nature there are four seasons and the four points of the compass.

Forty, a multiple of four by ten, is one of the sacred numbers. The probation of our first parents in the garden of Eden is supposed to have been forty years. The rain fell at the deluge forty days and nights, and the water remained on the earth forty days. The days of embalming the dead were forty. Solomon's temple was forty cubits long. In it were ten lavers, each four cubits long and containing forty baths.

Moses was forty years old when he fled into the land of Midian, where he dwelt forty years. He was on Mount Sinai forty days and forty nights. The Israelites wandered in the wilderness forty years. The Saviour fasted forty days and nights before entering upon public life. The same time elapsed between the resurrection and the ascension.—Exchange.

How Roberts Won the Victoria Cross.

Roberts noted that a sowar of the squadron with which he rode was in great danger from a sepoy with a fixed bayonet. The contest of sword against bayonet would have ended disastrously had not Roberts intervened and disposed of the bayonet. That was barely done when he noticed in the distance two sepoys fleeing with a standard. He galloped after the rebels and overtook them, and then he had a close fight for the possession of the standard. He cut down its chief bearer. While wrenching the staff from the man's grasp with both his hands the other sepoy turned his musket on him and fired. The muzzle was within a few inches of Roberts' person, and there would certainly have been an end of him had not the musket refused to go off. As it was, he rode away unhurt with the standard, and for those two courageous and gallant acts in close succession Roberts got the Victoria cross.—Cobban's "Life of Roberts."

The Cows of Muscat.

Muscat is famed as the hotbed of smugglers in the Persian gulf, the nearby desert tribes being regularly supplied with arms despite the efforts of the British patrol. But to the writer, reared on a Missouri farm, the odd antics of the cows of Muscat seemed nothing short of freakish. They actually eat fish. No grass grows, so the wily Arab teaches his family cow to subsist on dates and dried fish. The milk tastes queer to a foreigner, which is probably why the Arab likes it. He also claims it is richer and makes more butter, but most ridiculous of all is the deception practiced on cows when the calves are "weaned." A calfskin or sometimes a goatskin is stuffed with rags and tied not far from where the mother cow is anchored. This effigy of her late lamented offspring soothes her nerves and keeps her from "going dry," according to Arabic tradition.—San Francisco Chronicle.

A Surprised Lion.

The man eating lions did not always get their own way. Five Sikh carpenters made a staging eight feet high, and on this they fixed their sleeping tent. Each night they ascended by means of a ladder, which they drew up after them. They were warned that it was not high enough, but were content to believe that God was all powerful. One night they left the edge of the ladder projecting beyond the end of the staging. A hungry man eater on the prowl observed this and, thinking he could not find a meal more conveniently elsewhere, determined to try how a carpenter tasted. Calculating his spring, he leaped lightly on to the projecting ladder, which, unfortunately for him, instantly tipped up and toppled over, both falling heavily to the ground. The lion bolted; so did all the men, making for the nearest trees.—From "In the Grip of the Nyika," by Colonel J. H. P. Patterson.

A Test of Friendship.

A gentleman tried the following peculiar way of probing the ties of friendship. He sent letters to twenty-four intimate friends asking for a loan of a pound. Thirteen of the two dozen friends did not reply at all, five declined to lend the money, two promised to send it on the next day and did not do it, one sent his "last 10 shillings," and only three sent the full sum asked for. The supplicant and all the "friends" he had written to are well off.—London Mail.

A Pointer.

The Girl—You're not a bit like a lover. You never say pretty things. The Man—Didn't I say that you looked like a beautiful autumn leaf? The Girl—Well, don't autumn leaves want pressing?—Illustrated Bits.

His Bad Break.

"How did you enjoy the musicale?"

"Oh, I applauded at the wrong time, as usual! Thought the orchestra tuning up was a classical number."—Kansas City Journal.

Thoughts.

Thoughts are much greater than things. They are vital forces and have endless effects. What you think today determines what you will be in years to come.

Easily Granted.

Tommy—Ma, can I have two pieces of pie this noon? Ma—Certainly, Tommy. Cut the piece you have in two.—Somerville Journal.

HER ONE QUESTION.

The Woman In the Case, as Usual, Had the Last Word.

When Mr. Jenkins went to his bedroom at half past 1 it was with the determination of going to sleep and with another determination that he would not be interviewed by Mrs. Jenkins. So as soon as he had entered the door and deposited his lamp upon the dressing table he commenced to undress and to make his speech:

"I locked the front door. I put the chain on. I pulled the key out a little bit. The dog is inside. I put the kitten out. I emptied the drip pan of the refrigerator. The cook took the silver to bed with her. I put a cane under the knob of the back hall door. I put the fastenings over the bathroom windows. The parlor fire has coal on. I put the cake box back in the closet. I did not drink all the milk. It is not going to rain. Nobody gave me any message for you. I mailed your letter as soon as I got downtown. Your mother did not call at the office. Nobody died that we are interested in. Did not hear of a marriage or engagement. I was very busy at the office making out bills. I have hung my clothes over chair backs. I want a new egg for breakfast. I think that is all, and I will now put out the light."

Mr. Jenkins felt that he had hedged against all inquiry, and a triumphant smile was upon his face as he took hold of the gas check and sighted a line for the bed when he was earthquaked by the query from Mrs. Jenkins, "Why don't you take off your hat?"—Argonaut.

A STORY OF MEISSONIER.

The Painter's Two Breakfasts With a Stingy Art Patron.

Meissonier once got acquainted with a Parisian grandee, very wealthy, very fond of posing as an art patron, but slightly penurious. One day Meissonier, breakfasting with the grandee, was struck by the beauty of the texture of the tablecloth. "One could draw upon it," he remarked, and, suiting the action to the word, he produced a pencil and made on the smooth, snowy nap a wonderfully able sketch of a man's head. The particular tablecloth in question never went to the wash. The "economical swell" had the head carefully cut out of the damask and hastened to frame and glaze his prize. A few weeks afterward Meissonier again breakfasted with his patron and found by the side of his plate at the corner of the table assigned to him a neat little sheaf of crayons and holders, with a penknife and some india rubber.

While the guests, at the conclusion of the repast, were enjoying their coffee and cigarettes the host saw with delight "from the corner of his eye" that Messonier was hard at work on the tablecloth, this time with a superb little full length of a mediaeval halberdier. The party broke up, the guests departed, and the "economical swell" rushed back to the dining room to secure his treasure. But, alas, the painter had for once shown himself as economical as his patron! He had made disastrously good use of the penknife, and one corner of the tablecloth was gone, halberdier and all!

Bismarck on the Throne of France.

Bismarck on the throne of France! Bismarck was once spoken of in that connection, and by Napoleon too! It was during the detention of the dethroned emperor at Wilhelmshohe in 1871, when Napoleon and some members of his staff were discussing the probability of Napoleon reascending the French throne and news of the doings of the commune was brought in.

"Horrible—too horrible!" exclaimed le petit empereur.

And then after a long silence he resumed, "I know a man who if on the French throne would be master of Germany in six months."

"His name, sire?" asked his nephew, Prince Murat.

"Bismarck," replied the emperor as he turned on his heel.

A Curious Barometer.

A curious barometer is said to be used by the remnant of the Araucanian race which inhabits the southernmost province of Chile. It consists of the castoff shell of a crab. The dead shell is white in fair, dry weather, but the approach of a moist atmosphere is indicated by the appearance of small red spots. As the moisture in the air increases the shell becomes entirely red and remains so throughout the rainy season.

Iridium.

Iridium is a hard, brittle, silver white metallic element belonging to the platinum group, discovered by Tennant in 1803, sometimes found native and nearly pure, but generally combined with osmium. It is, with the exception of osmium, the heaviest metal known and is used for pen points, contact points in telegraphy and points of scientific implements liable to wear. Its specific gravity is 22.4.

Hope.

"Say, pop, I've got to write a composition on 'Hope.' What is 'hope,' anyway?"

"Hope, my boy, is the joyous expectation of being able to dodge our just deserts."—Life.

A Short Fall.

"Golly, Mike, are you alive after falling two stories?"

"Why, that's not far; this is a fifty-one story building."—Judge.

The prodigal robs his heir; the miser robs himself.—Bruyere.

Mr. E. A. Kelley, Belvidere, Ill. writes us: "I am an ex-engineer with 22 years active service to my credit. About three years ago my kidneys were so that I had to give up my engine. First I was troubled with severe aching pain over the hips. Then followed inflammation of the bladder, and specks appeared before my eyes. A sample of Foley's Kidney Pills that I tried, so benefited me that I bought more. I continued to take them until now I can safely testify they have made me a sound and well man." Sold by C. M. Parrish.

Read "The Republican"—$1 a year in advance.

MUSIC

FOR

SKATING RINKS
Moving Picture Shows
Dance Halls
Merry-Go-Rounds
Amusement Places

BEST BAND O GANS MADE
SIMPLE I ACTION

MUSIC THAT HAS LIFE AND SNAP
ATTRACTIVE PRICES

WRITE FOR OUR CATALOG

Niagara Military Band Organ Co.

Box 683 Factory, So. Thompson St.
NORTH TONAWANDA, N. Y.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY PILLS
FOR BACKACHE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER

Professional Cards.

Harry E. Fenlon,
FIRE INSURANCE.
Temple Court, Bellefonte, Pa.

A. A. Dale,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Office East Hight St., first door above Allegheny St., Bellefonte, Pa.

H. C. Quigley,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Office in Temple Court, South Allegheny St., Bellefonte, Pa.

Harry Keller,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Office in Temple Court, South Allegheny St., Bellefonte, Pa.

Clement Dale,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Office East High St., first door above Allegheny St., Bellefonte, Pa.

J Thomas Mitchell,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Office in Temple Court, South Allegheny St., Bellefonte, Pa.

A BRIGHT CLEAR LIGHT
"Family Favorite" LAMP OIL

Absolutely the best oil possible to produce from the best known source—Pennsylvania crude oil.
Smokeless, sootless, odorless,
Burns clean and steady to the last drop without readjusting wick.
Your dealer knows it's good oil.
He can supply you.

Waverly Oil Works Co.
Independent Refiners
Pittsburg, Pa.
Also makers of Waverly Special Auto Oil and Waverly Gasolines.

THE REPUBLICAN.

Bellefonte, Pa., February 10, 1910.

CHARLES E. DORWORTH, - Ed., & Pub.

ubscription rate, $1 a year, strictly in Advance.

The Republican and the New York Tribune Farmer, $1.50 a year in Advance.

—— Advertising Rates. ——

One Column, 1 year.....$100
One Half Column, 1 year.....60
One Quarter Column, 1 year.....35
Legal Notices (if no special contract exists) 10 cents per line, each insertion, nonpareil measure.

—ELECTION day, Tuesday.

—GREED at times so dominates a man hat he reveals himself in his true light.

—THE bull-dozer and the bluffer invariably picks out some little fellow upon whom to vent his wrath.

—WITH the closing of the polls on Tuesday next, Spring elections in Pennsylvania will have become a thing of the past.

—WITH the finest home of any similar organization in the State, it is not to be wondered at that the Elks are right smart proud these days.

—WHEN a man finds he has not been nvited to a private dinner and later crudely whines about it to the host it would indicate that he lacks the first principles of a gentleman.

—IT remains to be seen whether those Democrats in the South ward who have the knife out for 'Squire Keichline will be able to land his scalp. Said 'Squire is a pretty shifty old campaigner.

—MAYOR MAGEE of Pittsburg, upset the ice-water into the camp of the trouble-makers when he frankly declared n favor of the re-election of United States Senator George T. Oliver.

—THE visit of the Philadelphia manufacturers to Bellefonte last week was so brief that one was reminded of the old song: "He walked right in and turned around and he walked right out again."

—IF the Republican State Committee adopes the wisest course thus far suggested it will elect Senator Penrose as Chairman to succeed the late W. R. Andrews. Even the critics of Senator Penrose admit that Quay in his palmiest days never had so harmonious and efficient a party organization in the State, as has been developed under the Penrose leadership.

A Stitch in Time.

Tyrone has just experienced one of the worst fires in its history. Frozen fire plugs contributed to the delay in conquering the flames. Jersey Shore has just gone through a disastrous blaze. Again, frozen fire plugs held back willing firemen who were powerless without water.

What about the fire plugs in Bellefonte? Are they open, ready for instant use in case of emergency, or are they, like those of Tyrone and Jersey Shore, out of commission because of the extreme cold weather? The authorities of Tyrone and Jersey Shore thought their fire plugs were all right. They took it for granted, and made no investigation.

Happily, Bellefonte has had no large fires and no especial occasion to test many of our fire plugs since Winter set in. We assume that the fire plugs are all right, but are they? Wouldn't it be a good thing to have each fire plug tested, and if any are found defective to put them in shape. It's pretty good religion to follow the old creed of "'A Stitch in Time—"

Death of Chairman Andrews.

Death on Saturday morning last ended the long and active career of Colonel W. R. Andrews, chairman of the Republican State Committee. His weakened system, at the age of 72 years, was unable to repel the ravages of pneumonia and the veteran of a score of campaigns closed his eyes in peaceful and dreamless sleep. Funeral services were held at Washington on Sunday, with Senators Penrose and Oliver and other prominent men as honorary pall-bearers, and on Monday interment was made at New York. The remains of Colonel Andrews were laid to rest by the side of his wife and two daughters, who preceded him to the grave several years ago.

In the death of Chairmen Andrews the Republican party in Pennsylvania loses a wise counsellor and a loyal, untiring and unselfish servant. First as Secretary and finally as Chairman of the State Committee, Colonel Andrews loomed large in the councils and activities of the Republican party. As secretary to Senator Penrose he figured conspicuously in the latter's rapid progress and advancement in public life.

To the writer the death of Colonel Andrews comes as a personal loss. During the last twelve years or more we were privileged to enjoy his friendship and association. Gifted with an even temperament, a sunny disposition and a wit that sparkled and was to the point, Colonel Andrews was a friend whose friendship was worth having. By all who knew him he will be missed.

"I feel the death of Col. Andrews as a personal bereavement," said Senator Penrose. "We were so closely associated for so many years that it is as if a member of my family had been taken away from me. Col. Andrews knew and was known by practically every man in public life in Pennsylvania, and had a large circle of friends in the wide field of national activities."

Centre County Deaths.

(Continued from first page.)

JOHN C. CRYDER.

John C. Cryder, aged 79 years, a well-known resident of near Woolrich, died on Monday evening at 5:30 o'clock, as a result of a stroke of apoplexy, with which he was stricken on that day. He is survived by the following named sons and daughters: Thomas C. Cryder, Woolrich; Mrs. W. M. Shoemaker, Swissdale; Millard Cryder, Charlton; Charles Cryder, Williamsport; Mrs. S. E. Spong, Avis; Mrs. R. K. Merrill, of near Woolrich, with whom dececsed resided, and by the following brothers and sisters: Harrison Cryder, Woolrich; Mrs. George Farley, of near Woolrich; Mrs. Nancy Strayer, Jersey Shore, and Mrs. V. Isabel, of near Woolrich. Funeral services will be conducted at the home of R. K. Merrill, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Rev. M. S. Derstine, and burial will be made in Cryder's cemetery.—Lock Haven Democrat.

MRS. LUCY ANN VONADA.

A death which is deeply mourned by a host of friends was that of Mrs. Lucy Ann Vonada, at her late home, at Zion, on Sunday morning last after a brief illness. A woman with many splendid qualities, an active member of the Zion Reformed Church, Mrs. Vonada had a wide circle of warm and admiring friends. She was born in Snyder County and was almost 86 years of age. Her husband died about 12 years ago. Surviving are one daughter and four sons, Mrs. Emanuel Garbrick and Adam, Benjamin, William and Harvey Vonada, and also two sisters, Mrs. George Kaufman, of Zion, and Mrs. Daniel Royer, of Kansas. Funeral services were held yesterday, conducted by Rev. H. I. Crow, after which interment was made in the Zion cemetery.

WILLIAM A. MOORE.

William Andrew Moore, an old soldier and a highly respected resident of Philipsburg, died on Monday night at the Farmer's Hotel, at Philipsburg, where he had been boarding for some time past. He was stricken with heart failure and died shortly afterward. Deceased was born at Grampian and was aged about 76 years. He is survived by two children: James, of Punxsutawney, and David, of Baldwin, Mich. Surviving are also one brother, D. S. Moore, of Curwensville, and three sisters: Mrs. Hannah Moore and Mrs. E. McDonald, of Grampian, and Mrs. Ellen Shivery, of Buffalo Run. Mr. Moore was a private in Company B, 149th Penna. Volunteers, and was a member of John W. Geary Post, No. 90, G. A. R. Interment will be made today at Grampian.

MRS. WILLIAM MAYES.

After an illness of almost three months Mrs. William Mayes, of Hublersburg, died early Tuesday morning at the home of Wallace White, at Axe Mann. She was taken ill while on a visit to the White home in December, last, and remained there until her death. Deceased, whose maiden name was Susan White, was the wife of William Mayes and was about 61 years of age. In addition to her husband she is survived by one son, John, and two daughters: Mrs. Philip F. Garbrick, of Coleville, and Mrs. Walter Bowes, of Philadelphia. Funeral services will be held at 1 o'clock tomorrow (Friday) afternoon, from the residence of Mr. Garbrick, at Coleville.

MRS. MARY HINTON.

Mrs. Mary Hinton, a well-known resident of Cassanova, died at her home at that place on Sunday morning, aged about 76 years. She had been an invalid for about twelve years, dating with injuries caused by a fall on the ice while out walking. She is survived by three daughters and one son: Mrs. E. J. Goodyear, Cassanova; Mrs. Nettie Eckenroth, Pittsburg; Mrs. Laura Early, Jersey Shore, and John Hinton, of Almosa, Cal. Three brothers also survive: James Michaels, of Karthaus; Hunt, of Tyrone, and George, of Lock Haven. Interment was made at Snow Shoe on Tuesday.

THOMAS J. EDMINSTON.

Death early yesterday morning ended the suffering of four-years-old Thomas J. Edminston, at the Bellefonte Hospital. He was a grandson of Architect Robert Cole and was taken ill about ten days or two weeks ago. What the physicians said was an attack of grip left the child in a weakened condition, its face becoming terribly swollen and causing intense pain. On Sunday, last, the removal of the child to the hospital was decided on, but there it was believed that death was but a matter of time. About 6 o'clock yesterday morning the patient little sufferer closed his eyes in restful sleep.

JAMES A. SWAVELY.

James A. Swavely, who for a number of years was an inmate of the city home, at Lock Haven, died on Tuesday at the Lock Haven hospital. His death was due to Bright's disease. Deceased was aged about 70 years and has no nearer relatives than several nieces and nephews, who reside in Nittany valley.

RAYMOND MAYES.

Raymond Mayes, a well-known young man of Philipsburg, died at his late home at that place on Wednesday night of last week. He had been ill about two weeks with pneumonia. Deceased was about 17 years of age and was a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Mayes.

Train Schedule.

Pennsylvania Railroad.

FOR TYRONE—Leave Bellefonte at 9.15 A. M., 1.07 P. M. and 4.45 P. M. Sunday, 9.15 A. M. and 4.45 P. M.

FOR LOCK HAVEN—Leave Bellefonte at 9.35 A. M., 1.25 P. M. and 8.20 P. M. Sunday, 9.50 A. M. and 8.20 P. M.

FOR MONTANDON—Leave Bellefonte at 6.35 A. M. and 1.50 P. M. Trains from Montandon arrive at Bellefonte at 9.05 A. M. and 4.20 P. M.

FOR SNOW SHOE—Leave Bellefonte at 9.15 A. M. and 5 P. M. Trains from Snow Shoe arrive at Bellefonte at 9.35 A. M. and 4.15 P. M.

Bellefonte Central R. R.

FOR STATE COLLEGE—Leave Bellefonte at 6.30 A. M., 10.15 A. M. and 2 P. M. Trains from State College arrive at Bellefonte at 8.50 A. M., 12.50 P. M. and 6 P. M.

Central R. R. of Penna.

FOR MILL HALL—Leave Bellefonte at 7.05 A. M., 2.20 P. M. and 6.55 P. M. Trains from Mill Hall arrive at Bellefonte at 9.40 A. M., 5.05 P. M. and 9.40 P. M.

Penny-A-Word Column.

FOR RENT—Three large steam heated rooms over Olewine's Hardware store. Also three back rooms in Exchange Building—Suitable for living or workrooms. F. W. Crider.

WANTED A lady about 25 years old to learn the jewelry business; good permanent position to right party. Address Watchmaker, 511 Main Street, Towanda, Pa. 11-18, tf.

WANTED—Several Job Printers and plain Type-setters can learn to run linotype and get permanent jobs at good wages (not in Bellefonte). Address "Linotype" this office. 2-10-3t-x

WANTED—Men quickly by big Chicago Mail Order house to distribute catalogues, advertise, etc. $21.00 a week. Liberal expense allowance first month. No experience required. Globe Association, 1212 State St., Chicago. 2 10-6tx

Houses For Sale—I have two houses for sale, in Milesburg Borough, one for $700 and one for $500, on easy terms. Much better inducements for cash.

L. C. BULLOCK, JR.,
8-19-tf Overseer-of-the-Poor.

How 50 cents made $200 and $5 made 2,000 in a short time is the title of a fascinating booklet, which especially investors of small means looking for similar opportunities ought to read. Copy free on application. Address, Pres. A. L. Waterbury, 356 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.. 1-6-6tx

Wanted—Young men to learn automobile business by mail and prepare for positions as chaffeurs and repair men. We make you expert in ten weeks; assist you to secure position. Pay big; work pleasant, demand for men great; reasonable; write for particulars and sample lesson. Empire Automobile Institute, Rochester, N. Y.

MRS. GEORGIANNA MERRYMAN.

Mrs. Georgianna Merryman, mother of Mrs. Henry C. Quigley, of Bellefonte, died on Monday at the Park Hotel, at Williamsport. She had been ill about one month. Mrs. Merryman was a native of Bradford, New York, at which place interment was made yesterday. Her only survivors are Mrs. Quigley and a son, Egbert Merryman, of Narrows, Virginia.

MRS. SAMUEL RALSTON.

Mrs. Samuel Ralston died on Tuesday night at her late home near State College. Her husband preceded her to the grave several years ago. Deceased was aged about 67 years and is survived by three sons and one daughter: Jennie, William, who lives on the farm; George, of Lemont, and Robert, of Houserville. Interment will be made at 10 o'clock tomorrow.

MARY MCCAFFREY.

Miss Mary McCaffrey, a daughter of Patrick McCaffrey, at one time a well known resident of Bellefonte, died on Tuesday at her late home at Lock Haven. She had been an invalid for several years. Interment was made yesterday.

A Curious Dilemma.

Too much snow in some places and not enough in others caused no end of trouble to Mr. Bilger, the lumberman, who is cutting timber in the ridges near Jacksonville. His teams were hauling lumber to Bellefonte on Monday on large sleds. At some points along the Jacksonville road the snow was so deep that it was difficult work to get through. When the teams reached Bellefonte the other extreme was experienced. On Spring Street, near Howard, the snow was entirely gone and the street was bare. Four horses hitched to a sled load of lumber could not drag it along the rough ground. With no other way out of the dilemma, the teamsters borrowed shovels and went to work scattering snow over the bare places. After some hard work the sleds were hauled through town and to the Pennsylvania Railroad, where the lumber was shipped for use in building floors for freight cars.

Thought it Was "Uncle Joe."

Despite the rule of the house that the entrances and exits shall remain closed and that none shall be permitted to enter or depart from the galleries while the chaplain is praying, a fussy old lady a day or two ago refused to be rebuffed, says a Washington dispatch.

"I want to see that awful Mr. Cannon there's so much talk about," she said, and the guard, to quiet her, opened the door just a crack to let her peep through. Her eyes first fell upon the Rev. Henry Couden, the blind chaplain, who was then concluding his invocation.

"The old hypocrite, and him a praying, too," she exclaimed.

Many mixtures are offered as substitutes for Royal.

None of them is the same in composition or effectiveness, so wholesome and economical, nor will make such fine food.

ROYAL Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

Royal is the only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar

STOCK QUOTATIONS.

Range of New York Stocks yesterday. Quotations furnished by T. S. Strawn, Temple Court.

	Opened	Closed.
Aml. Copper	72½	74½
Anc. Copper	47	49⅛
Am. Smelting	77⅝	80
Nat. Lead	75⅞	76½
Am. Car Foundry	58	58⅞
Am. Locomotive	46	47½
Col. Fuel & Iron	34¼	35½
Press Steel Car	37	37½
Brooklyn Rap. Transit	69⅝	71¼
Penna.	130⅞	131⅞
Reading	158¼	160⅛
Nor Pacific	135½	135⅞
Atchison	112¾	114
St. Paul	145¾	147⅛
Can. Pacific	179½	180⅜
Rock Island	45½	45⅛
Rock Island, Pfd	83	84
New York Central	117¼	118½
Louisville & Nashville	144½	145
Illinois Central	140½	140½
Missouri Pacific	67⅝	68½
Balto. & Ohio	110	110⅞
Chesapeake & Ohio	80	81⅛
Norfolk & Western	97¼	98½
Union Pacific	180	180¼
Southern Pacific	122½	124
Erie 1st	26⅝	28
P. M.	28¾	29
U. S. Steel	76½	78¼
U. S. Steel, Pfd	118¼	119
Republic	33⅝	35
Republic, Pfd	98⅜	99½
Am. Sugar	119½	122
Wabash	19¼	20
Wabash, Pfd	42½	43⅞
Interborough	47	49
Ontario & Western	44	44½
Southern Ry	27	27
Great Northern	134⅝	135⅜
Delaware & Hudson	171½	172¼

Bellefonte Markets.

Corrected by John Meese, Grocer.

Eggs, per dozen	.32
Butter, per pound	.25
Lard, per pound	.15
Tallow, per pound	.05
Potatoes, per bushel	.60
Onions, yellow, per bushel	.75

Bellefonte Grain Market.

Corrected by Gamble, Gheen & Co.

Wheat, red	$1.22
Wheat, white	1.17
Corn, shelled (per bu.)	.70
Corn, ears, (per bu.)	.70
Oats, (per bu.)	.50
Rye, (per bu.)	.70
Barley, (per bu.)	.60
Buckwheat, (per bu.)	.50

If You Are a Trifle Sensitive

About the size of your shoes, it's some satisfaction to know that many people can wear shoes a size smaller by shaking Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder, into them. Just the thing for Dancing Parties, Patent Leather Shoes and for Breaking in New Shoes. When rubbers or overshoes become necessary and your shoes pinch, Allen's Foot-Ease gives instant relief. Sold Everywhere, 25c. Sample FREE. Address, Allen S. Olmstead, LeRoy, N. Y. Don't accept any substitute.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its states, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, action directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.

Sold by all Druggists, 75c.

THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL and THE SATURDAY EVENING POST want a man or woman in Bellefonte, Pa and vicinity to look after subscription renewals and to forward new business. A guaranteed weekly salary, the amount depending on the work done, and a commission on each order. Experience unnecessary. Any one can build up a permanent paying business without capital. Complete outfit and instructions free.

Agents' Division
The Curtis Publishing Company
225 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of a writ of Testatum Fi. Fa. issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Blair County and entered in Centre County to No. 44, February Term, 1910, and to me directed, there will be exposed to public sale at the Court House, in the Borough of Bellefonte, Pa., on at 1:30 P. M., the following described real estate to wit:

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 28th, 1910,

All that certain messuage, tenement and tract of land situate in Union township, Centre County, and State of Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a post corner of land of Joseph Davidson, thence by land of William Bowers North fifty-eight and one-fourth degrees East, one hundred and twenty-five rods to a white oak; thence by land of Daniel Bopp, South forty degr es East, one hundred and sixty-four rods to a post; thence by land of Fisher Estate and J. B. Alexander, South Fifty-eight degrees West, one hundred and thirty-four rods to a post; thence by lands of Joseph B. Davidson, North thirty-six and one-half degrees West, one hundred and sixty-three and four-tenths rods to the place of beginning. Containing one hundred and nineteen acres and one hundred and forty-nine perches. Having thereon erected a double frame dwelling house, a bank barn, two stables, spring house and other necessary out buildings.

Also, a certain parcel or tract of timber land situate in said township, county and State: Beginning at a rock oak corner, thence South thirty degrees East, eighty-two rods to a post; thence North sixty degrees East, along lands of William P. Fisher, one hundred and two rods to a stone corner; thence North thirty degrees West, eighty-two rods along lands of D. Downing to a stone corner; thence along land of McCoy and Linn South sixty degrees West, one hundred and two rods to the place of beginning. Containing forty-nine acres and fifty-three perches.

Seized, taken in execution, and to be sold as the property of George D. Hoover.

TERMS OF SALE.—No deed will be acknowledged until the purchase money is paid in full.

Sheriff's Office W. E. HURLEY,
Bellefonte, Pa., Feb 4th, 1910. Sheriff.
2-10-3t

More people are taking Foley's Kidney Remedy every year. It is considered the most effective remedy for all the kidney and bladder troubles that medical science can devise. Foley's Kidney Remedy corrects irregularities, builds up the system, and restores lost vitality. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

FOR CONGRESS.

I desire to announce myself as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the primaries of the Republican party, in the Twenty-first Congressional District of Pennsylvania.

C. F. BARCLAY.

FOR CONGRESS.

You are authorized to announce my name as a candidate for Congress, from the 21 Congressional District composed of the Counties of Clearfield, McKean, Centre and Cameron, subject to the Rules of the Republican Party. Primary Election, June 4, 1909.

Yours truly,
CHAS. E. PATTON
Curwensville,
Clearfield County.

Auctioneer.

J. I. Reed, Pine Grove Mills, Pa., General auctioneer offers his service to the public. Farm and stock sales a specialty. Satisfaction guaranteed. For telephone communciation call J. B. Krebs & Bros. store.

For Rent.

Storage Rooms in Exchange Building, at one dollar per month.

F. W. CRIDER.

Have you a prescription? Take it to Green's.

Open a Bank Account!

Every man and every woman who handles money should have a bank account subject to check. Write us, or call to see us, and let us open one for you.

We have the organization, the capital and the surplus to take care of your business intelligently, carefully and correctly.

Why not use this strong bank in your business?

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK,
BELLEFONTE, PA.

Do It Now

Get Our Prices On Lumber, Frames Lath, Sash, Shingles, Doors, Flooring and Moulding

Paroid Roofing

Or anything else you need in the building line. You can have our 42 years experience free and buy what you want at bottom prices. Anticipating an advance in prices of

Southern Lumber

And Pacific Coast Red Cedar Shingles, we bought a large stock and will sell at the present low prices while they last. Odd lots of moulding, sash and lumber at specially low prices.

P. B. CRIDER & SON,
Office, Yard and Mill at Lamb st. Bridge, Bellefonte, Pa.

The County at a Glance.

Howard.

Mrs. Hayes Schenck and Mrs. Henry M. Confer were called to Berwick last week on account of the death of their niece, Helen Smith, the 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Smith former residents of this place. Her death was caused by measles, from which the young lady had been ill only a few days. The funeral took place Friday afternoon.

Rev. R. S. Taylor, pastor of the Methodist church is now holding a series of special evangelistic meetings. There should be a good attendance at these meetings each evening and much good should be accomplished before they come to a close.

Miss Mittie Lucas, our ever popular milliner, is visiting friends in Milton and will later go to eastern cities to select her stock of spring millinery.

Henry Thompson, J. L. Pletcher and D. W. Pletcher were in Bellefonte on Saturday and took the examination for census enumerator. We have not learned how they made out but all three are thoroughly capable of filling the position and we hope they will be successful in being appointed. D. W. Pletcher is an applicant for the Howard borough and township districts.

At the recent meeting of the stockholders of the Howard Canning company the following gentlemen were chosen as directors: Albert Schenck, George Weaver, Henry Thompson, Jackson Kline, W. F. Leathers, David Robb, J. D. Diehl, J. Will Mayes and Robert Confer. Jackson Kline was re-elected president and W. F. Leathers secretary. On Saturday last another meeting was held over from the previous meeting. Financially the factory has not proved a very great success and the question of continuing the operation of the plant under the circumstances has been much discussed by the stockholders and directors. At the meeting on Saturday some were in favor of not running the factory, while others want to assess each stockholder and make up the indebtedness. To this there were some serious objections. Some are in favor of selling the entire plant and letting it be run as the purchaser sees fit, instead of on the co-operative plan. The plant was erected at a cost of $15,000

A. A. Schenck, the hardware merchant, left on Monday for Philadelphia, where he is in attendance at the hardware men's convention this week.

Roy Shilling, of Bellefonte, visited relatives here on Monday.

Miss Emma Pletcher returned last Friday from a pleasant visit with friends in Williamsport.

A sled load of young people from Mill Hall drove to Howard one evening recently and were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Holter by their daughter Gladys.

On Monday evening a jolly crowd of our young folks enjoyed a ride to Eagleville and report having had a pleasant time.

Mrs. Catherine McKinney suffered another paralytic stroke on Sunday and has since been in a critical condition. Her son Rev. C. L. McKinney, was down from Renovo Monday and Tuesday to be with her.

Mr. Giles, the Pennsylvania Railroad police, was a caller here the fore part of the week.

Clement Dale, of Bellefonte, was a caller at the home of Henry Thompson in the ridges on Tuesday.

Edith and Lauretta Weber were up from the Lock Haven normal over Sunday.

Rev. J. R. Sechrist, of Bellwood, a former pastor of the Evangelical church, occupied the various appointments of this charge for Rev. Rhoads last Sunday and conducted the quarterly communion services.

During the progress of the revival meeting in the Methodist church Monday evening a dog entered the cold air shaft that supplies fresh outside air to the heater and by his continual howling greatly interrupted the services. It was some time before the canine could be coaxed out of the box.

Harry Senft, a former Howard boy who has been absent for some years, returned to town on Tuesday and surprised his many friends. He has just closed a term of enlistment with Uncle Sam and had been doing service in the West and in the Phillippine Islands.

George Hess, John DeHass and Wm. Batchlett, of Beech Creek, were visitors in Howard on Tuesday.

F. S. Dunham was a business visitor to Bellefonte on Tuesday.

Sunday was the coldest day we have experienced this winter and was credited to the groundhog. The extremely cold weather has covered the big dam with a glassy coating of ice and our young people are enjoying the fine skating.

Mrs Shuman Pletcher visited at the home of Mrs. John Meese, in Bellefonte, several days.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Bald Eagle Valley Telephone company was held at this place on Tuesday and the following directors elected: E. L. Orvis, Laird Curtin, Dr. W. J. Kurtz, Ed. Bechdel and Wm. Batchlett. General Superintendent Nelson E. Robb was in attendance

Mt. Eagle.

Boys and young men who read the newspapers sometimes find themselves in a confused state of mind as they note the indiscriminate eulogy lavished upon all sorts and conditions of people who have finished their earthly career and have left nothing behind but their influence and record. But one thing is sure, the memory of no man will live unless he has really done something worthy of remembrance. The world may be sure of another thing. It does matter how a man meets the responsibilities of life and in what fashion he performs his daily duties. New occasions bring new duties, but it is not true that new centuries bring larger moral requirements. Let us admit that the Puritan spirit seems to have receded very far into the background and that man's ideas of the invisible have greatly changed, yet the fact remains that the Ten Commandments have never been repealed and that their author is as changeless as his laws. The present generation seems to be very much more secular in spirit than its predecessors and yet there never was a period in the history of the nation when the private citizen, the individual, the corporation, the employer or the State made more searching inquiry concerning the personal character and actual record of those seeking employment or preferment. No matter what glib speeches may fall from the lips of reckless men, no matter how careless the pen of the eulogist, it is still tremendously true that the people are able to separate the real from the false, still true that they know about weakness or inefficiency, still true that they are setting a higher standard from year to year. Look about you, young man, and it will not be long until you become convinced that the highest and most substantial success comes to him who walks in the way of truth and keeps his manhood sustained. When a political party or other association feels in urgent need of a strong leader it searches out such an one and places itself under his guidance. This is proved by the unexpected but significent events of almost each passing year.

Mrs. Joseph Leathers, of Kennedy, spent Monday as the guest of Mrs. J. R. Pheasant.

Clair Gates and Clair Butler went to Mill Hall on Tuesday.

Lloyd Reeder went to Jersey Shore last week, returning on Friday. He was investigating a position there but it didn't suit, so he concluded to come home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miller were Bellefonte visitors on Friday, last.

Clark Beatty is busy hauling chemical wood to the station. He says the sledding is fine.

Mrs. McMinn, of Curtin, spent Saturday with Grandma Leathers.

Mrs. Ward Daughenbaugh visited Howard a day or two ago, attending to some shopping and also enjoying a little visit with her mother.

Miss Florence Leathers enjoyed a sleigh ride to Bellefonte on Saturday.

George Brown went to Pittsburg on Monday. This is his first visit to the "Smoky City."

E. H. Leathers started out on Monday to look up a few carloads of handle wood.

Moshannon.

Mrs. Alexander Black, of Clearfield, was a visitor in Moshannon on Saturday.

Mrs. Samuel Beightol and daughter, Essie, of Pine Glen, were pleasant callers upon friends in this place, one day last week.

Fount Lewis, of Pine Glen, was a business visitor to our town during the week.

Luther Bickett sustained quite a serious injury to his hand recently, while dumping coal at Viaduct.

Frank Fye was quite badly bruised in the mines several day ago. The accident might have proved fatal had he not escaped in the nick of time. A loaded car started to run on a grade and in attempting to stop it, he was thrown against the "rib" and away from the car which, otherwise, would have run over him.

Mrs. Jacob Craft, of Pine Glen, visited friends in this vicinity, recently.

Robert Kech, of Snow Shoe, was here on business one day this week.

Clarence Beates, of Pine Glen, visited on Sunday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Raymond Williamson, at this place.

Charles Guenot is all smiles over the arrival of a dear little girl at his house.

Charley Lucas has gone to Cleveland, O., where he expects to find employment on the railroad.

Some of our people have been attending the very successful revival meetings which have been in progress in the Methodist Church at Snow Shoe, under the direction of Rev. R. F. Ruch, the pastor.

Clarence Lucas says he is going to stay in Moshannon and hang wallpaper this Spring. We are glad of this as paperhangers are not always at hand in this community, when wanted.

Stormstown.

A number of our young folks enjoyed a sled ride to Baileyville last Friday evening.

Victor Way took a sled load to Centre Line a few nights ago.

Mrs. Hannah Northammer, who is 83 years of age, is quite ill.

J. H. Griffin is suffering quite a little from a sore ear.

The infant child of Mrs. Stella Nyhart died last week.

James Moore is looking for a place to move.

John Hicks has a new horse.

T. B. Way is rushed with orders for hay.

Frank Yeager last week visited his brother-in-law.

The lower town school had some very fine essays on Lincoln and Franklin on Friday afternoon, last.

The boys hereabouts have conquered two fixes. One was shot by Herman Griffin and the other by William Way.

Mrs. T. B. Way has sold her property, which stood in the mountain.

Robert Henderson recently visited his uncle, J. A. Hunter.

The trappers in this valley have been having very good luck, with the exception of last week when the weather was not so good.

Captain Hunter expects to have sale about the middle of March.

ELKS' FINE HOME

Have Most Magnificent Clubhouse of any Lodge in State.

A comfortable home is a joy to any man or group of men. When the Elks of Bellefonte purchased the old Curtin homestead, for a clubhouse, they came into possession of the finest home of any lodge in Pennsylvania. Last week the Elks moved from their old quarters, opposite the Court House, and this week they are busy fixing up their new clubhouse. So admirably arranged for a clubhouse was the building that few alterations were found to be necessary. The several rooms have been repapered and repainted and present a striking appearance to the visitor.

The two large parlors on the West side of the house with their high ceiling and deep windows, will be reserved for receptions and dinners. To the left as you enter the building is a handsome grill room. Immediately to the rear is the pantry and kitchen, the equipment being such as to care for any large function on short notice.

On the second floor, to the right front of the building, is the "Curtin Memorial Room". Here may be found the table-desk and chair used by Governor Curtin at Harrisburg. On the walls are mementoes of his public career and a splendid picture of the War Governor. To the left front is the reading room with large easy chairs suggesting comfort and rest. In the rear of the "Curtin Memorial Room" is the poor room, with two fine tables for the use of members. Another large room is at the rear of the reading rooom. This has been repapered and repainted but will not be furnished for the present. Adjoining the pool room is a card room. A large covered porch at the rear of the building affords an inviting place for summer evenings.

On the third floor of the building is the lodge room. Here the members meet in session twice each month.

There are two striking features about the Elks which are unknown to most persons who are not members. One is that while there is a sideboard in the clubhouse, treating among members is positively prohibited. The other is that gambling of any kind is strictly barred. One may not play cards for so small a wager as a cigar.

Since its organization the Bellefonte Lodge of Elks has grown rapidly and it now is one of the strongest in the State. With the new clubhouse as an additional attraction it is expected that the membership will be still further increased.

Blanchard.

The ground hog is being praised for his faithfulness.

Milford Gardner and wife visited friends at Lockport on Sunday.

The angel of death has visited our community taking from us the life of Mrs. John Williams. She had been suffering with dropsy for some time, which proved too strong for her physical condition. She was a consistent member of the Baptist Church for a number of years. Interment was made in the Baptist Cemetery on Monday afternoon. She leaves to mourn her loss four daughters and a number of grand children. She was in her seventy-eighth year.

Mrs. Lizzie Hannon, of Howard, visited at the home of John Fravel last Sunday.

Joe Daughenbaugh's smiling face was seen in our streets.

It is reported that Charles Winslow has secured a lucrative position as a traveling salesman.

Mrs. Clara Heaton, of Clearfield, had the misfortune to fall and break her arm while visiting at the home of Edward Heverly last Saturday.

Mrs. Edward Heverly, seriously ill with pneumonia, is at present convalescing.

The revival services in the Baptist Church are very interesting as each night brings a number of sinners to see the error of their way. Thus a number of persons have been added to the church.

A number of people from the village drove to the home of Willian Batschelet on Saturday night, where they were royally entertained.

Rev. Paterson was surprised last Saturday by being visited by a number of good people from Romola and Mill Hall.

Mrs. James Quigely was a recent visitor to Lock Haven.

Pine Grove.

Owing to the extremely cold weather on Sunday services were poorly attended.

H. N. Walker, the Grammar School teacher and Republican nominee for valuation assessor, transacted business at State College on Saturday.

Bert Musser and wife were visitors to Bellefonte on Saturday, last.

James A. Decker and daughters, Misses Maude and Dorothy, very pleasantly spent a few days at Bellefonte.

(Our regular Pine Grove letter was delayed in delivery and was not received in time for publication. We beg the indulgence of our many readers in that section of the county.—Editor "The Republican.")

Lincoln Day Train.

On Saturday, February 12, the Bellefonte Central R. R. Co., will run a special train, Bellefonte to State College, leaving Bellefonte at 9:30 A. M. after arrival of of P. R. R. trains from the East and West. Returning will leave State College about 2:00 P. M.

COL. TAYLOR TO BECOME CAPTAIN OF COMPANY L

Elect Capt. Garbrick's Successor on Tuesday Evening.

INSPECTION MARCH 10

As Commander of Company L Colonel Taylor Will Become Senior Captain of Twelfth Regiment and Also of Entire Penna. National Guard.

An election to name a new captain of Company L (formerly Company B) of Bellefonte has been called for Tuesday evening of next week. The vacancy was created by the resignation of Captain Philip F. Garbrick.

According to present plans of the members of the company, Colonel Hugh S. Taylor will be elected as Captain Garbrick's successor. While he maintains a non-committal attitude on the subject, it is understood among the friends of Colonel Taylor that if elected he will not decline to serve.

Lieutenant Colonel Barber, of the Twelfth Regiment, to which Company L has been attached, will conduct the election, which will be held at the Armory.

In the event of his election to succeed Captain Garbrick, Colonel Taylor will become senior Captain of not only the Twelfth Regiment but also of the entire Pennsylvania National Guard. This is due to the fact that under the National Guard rules he resumes his rank in years of service immediately upon being re-elected Captain.

It will require the presence of at least 28 members of Company L to elect a successor to Captain Garbrick. Orders to the several members of the company to present themselves at the Armory on Tuesday evening have already been issued. Orders have been issued from Harrisburg fixing March 10 as the date for the inspection of Company L.

Pine Glenn.

Miss Hazel Lewis returned on Monday from a pleasant visit with friends at Clearfield.

Miss Alice Barber, of Moshannon, was a pleasant caller at the Vallimont home on Thursday. Miss Barber is a neice of Mrs. Vallimont, who is no better at this writing.

Our farmers have been taking advantage of the good sledding and are very busy hauling ties, props, lumber, lime, etc.

Go to R. B. Daugherty's for valentines and post cards.

A number of our young men attended the festival at Karthaus on Saturday evening.

R. B. Daugherty is visiting friends in Rickwood, W. Va.

George Daugherty attended prayer meeting on Wednesday evening. He was accompanied by his friend, Mr. Rider, of Keywadin.

Vandon Meeker made a pleasant trip to Centre Hall last week.

Miss Grace Vallimont, one of our teachers, made a business trip to Bellefonte last week, going on Friday and returning on Monday.

Miss Mary Davis, of Moshannon, is staying with Mrs. Daugherty, while Mr. Dangherty is absent.

A STATEMENT

Henry D. Brown Defines His Position as a Candidate.

TO THE CITIZENS OF BELLEFONTE:

Having accepted the nomination of the Republican party in the South and West wards of Bellefonte for the office of Justice of the Peace, I desire herein to define my position in regard to that office. I conceive the duties and responsibilities of the office of Justice of the Peace to be among the most important of municipal offices wherein any official should discharge his duty with absolute fairness to all parties concerned. Futhermore, I do not believe that the privileges of such office should be subverted into the position of an examining magistrate, but should partake largely of judicial action as is by law provided for in the discharge of the duties thereof. These policies I deem in keeping with the said office and therefore, in the event of my election, I pledge myself to discharge my official duties with absolute fairness to all parties concerned in any cases that may come before me. Regardless of position or preference, I shall give a square deal to both the prosecution and defendant. In addition thereto, I pledge myself to encourage the adjustment of all trivial cases rather than return them to Court, where additional costs must be paid. Many such cases now returned to Court only to be quashed by the Grand Jury, could readily be settled satisfactorily in trial before a Justice of the Peace. In only such cases where I deemed it absolutely necessary would I allow them to go to the higher tribunal.

With these convictions and pledges I leave my candidacy in the hands of the citizens of the above named wards of this borough, trusting that they will receive careful consideration prior to the municipal election next Tuesday, February 15.

Respectfully,
HENRY D. BROWN.

- Fenway Chocolates - have ho superior at any price. We have just received a fresh supply--60 cents the pound, 30 cents the half pound.

Fenway Chocolate Walnuts 10 cts., Chocolate Peppermints 10 cents.

We guarantee the purity of these articles and know they will please you.

You can get them only at

GREEN'S PHARMACY CO.

The Rexall Store

BELLEFONTE - PA.

Real Estate Transfers.

Recorder Brown has recorded the following real estate transfers in the last week:

Harry Keller, execr. to J. Henry Fishburn, August 31, 1909, tract land in Benner township; $1,700.

T. A. Shoemaker et ux to Cecelia E Strunk, June 29, 1909, lot in Bellefonte; $350.

John Knarr et ux to John G. Dauberman, January 25, 1910, tract land in Potter township; $1.

John G. Dauberman et ux to John H. Knarr, January 25, 1910, tract land in Potter township; $1.

David Rhinesmith et ux to Michael M. Fishburn, August 3, 1895, tract land in Benner township; $150.

Keystone State Saving & Loan Association, of Altoona, to Caroline Ent, June 15, 1909, tract land in Philipsburg; $775.

E. P. McCormick et ux to Robert Slee, January 27, 1910 tract land in Philipsburg; $550.

George L. Ebbs et ux to Milton G. Walker, November 4, 1909, tract land in Half-moon township; $4,500.

Charles E. Stover et ux to Wallace V. Strouse, January 1, 1910, tract land in Spring township; $850.

Sarah Musser et al to Isaac Long, March 1, 1904, tract land in Gregg township; $1,125.

James C. Griffin et ux to Peter S. Duncan, October 9, 1906, tract land in Half-moon township; $4,700.

E. H. Frank et al to Lizzie Yarger, September 25, 1909, tract land in Haines township; $491.

Mary A. Foster to A. F. Markle, February 1, 1910, tract land in State College; $1.

Hannah J. Royer to O. A. Johnson, March 26, 1908, tract land in Ferguson township; $2,000.

Darius P. Greth, et al, trustees, to Pennsylvania Railroad Company January 12, 1910, tract land in Howard township; $650.

Elizabeth Kline et baron, to George W. Long, January 25, 1910, tract land in Gregg township; $1.

A. F. Markle to Robert P. Barnes, February 2, 1910, lot in State College; $1,400.

Julia Merdrick et baron, to Harry F. Crispin, January 25, 1910, lot in Snow Shoe township; $20.

William Showers, admr., to Sarah Showers, December 14, 1909, tract land in Walker township; $1,000.

Pure Olive Oil for medicinal use—GET IT AT GREEN'S

Hist! A Burglar!

Have you noticed the bulging left hip pocket that adorns the democratic portion of the trousers worn by Deputy Internal Revenue Collector George Washington Rees? To use the phrase of a well known firm, "See that hump?"

Hist! "Wash." Rees is carrying a gun. He is also carrying a grudge against a near-burglar. Bloodshed may follow at any second.

A little bit of a dog that sleeps in a a basket at the Rees home has been recommended to the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission for a leather medal. To the dog Collector Rees owes a debt of undying gratitude. Early last Saturday morning a would-be burglar tried to gain an entrance to the Rees home. Instantly the dog let out a howl that could be heard at least fifteen feet distant. The would-be burglar beat it. His foot prints in the snow have furnished a clew. "Wash." purchased the biggest gun to be found in town. Mr. Burglar, better keep under cover or you may be shot right thr ough the wrist.

Unclaimed Letters.

The following letters remain unclaimed at the Bellefonte Postoffice for the last weeek: Austin P. Berry, Mrs. Ralph Brandreth and family, Mrs. James Fenerlong, Mrs. Lane S. Hart, Adam Buschlep's Vaudeville Show, R. Emmet Madden, W. W. Moyer, Mrs. R. V. Taylor, S. D. Oysen, James C. Wagner, Harry Webster. Foreign, Edni Kuzilla. Persons calling for these letters will kindly explain to the postmaster that the same have been advertised in "The Republican."

Bibles at Reduced Prices.

The Centre County Bible Society has a surplus stock on hand of the publications of the American Bible Society, to be sold at less than cost. There are various styles, all in clear, perfect type. Bibles, 20 cents, up. Testaments, 5 cents, up. Bible schools, families and individuals in the county will never have a better opportunity for Bible supplies. Application may be made at any time to Depositary Crittenden, or to Secretary Weston, at the Y. M. C. A. building, Bellefonte.

Medical Society Meets.

At a Meeting of the Centre County Medical Society, held on Tuesday at the office of Dr. M. J. Locke, Dr. J. L. Seibert, of Bellefonte, read a paper on "Abdominal Contusions." The subject for discussion was "Diseases of the Liver." It was to have been opened by Dr. G. A. Woods, of Pine Grove, but he was unavoidably detained at home.

Read "The Republican." $1.00 per year in advance.

LIME! - LIME! - LIME!

High Grade commercial lime. Agricultural Lime. Hydra Oxide "H-O" Hydrated lime. Ground lime for agricultural purposes. Crushed limestone for concrete work. Graded limestone for road making.

Works at Bellefonte, Tyrone, Union Furnace and Frankstown, Pa. PROMPT SHIPMENTS.

Address all communications and orders to:

American Lime & Stone Company,
TYRONE, PENNA.

A SECOND MEETING.

The Earl of Stanhope and the Trusting Highwayman.

One night when the Earl of Stanhope was walking alone in the Kentish lanes a man jumped out of the hedge, leveled a pistol and demanded his purse.

"My good man, I have no money with me," said Lord Stanhope in his remarkably slow tones. The robber laid hands on his watch.

"No," Lord Stanhope went on; "that watch you must not have. It was given to me by one I love. It is worth £100. If you will trust me, I will go back to Chevening and bring a £100 note and place it in the hollow of that tree I cannot lose my watch."

The man did trust him. The earl did bring the note. Years after Lord Stanhope was at a city dinner, and next to him sat a London alderman of great wealth, a man widely respected. He and the earl talked of many things and found each other mutually entertaining.

Next day Lord Stanhope received a letter, out of which dropped a £100 note. "It was your lordship's kind loan of this sum," said the letter, "that started me in life and enabled me to have the honor of sitting next to your lordship at dinner."

A strange story, but the Stanhopes are a strange race, and things happen to them that never did or could occur to other people.—London Spectator.

A TURKISH LEGEND.

The Red Rose Sprang From a Drop of Mohammed's Blood.

"A truly religious Turk looks upon the rose with great reverence," said a florist. "The rose is beyond question the prettiest flower that blooms, and it was so considered by the Turks many years before the conquest of Granada. There is a religious legend generally believed in throughout Turkey that the red rose sprang from a drop of the great prophet Mohammed's blood. Everything beautiful in nature is ascribed to him. The Turks, therefore, have great reverence for the flower and allow it to bloom and die untouched, except on state occasions and for the purpose of making rosewater.

"After the conquest by the Turks they would not worship in any church until the walls were cleansed and washed with rosewater and thus purified by the blood of the prophet. It is used on the body for the same purpose. A Turk whose conscience is stung by some act or deed he has committed will caress and pay reverence to the rose to appease the wrath of the prophet and Allah.

"With these ideas inculcated in him from youth it would shock him severely to see the pretty flower strewn in the path of a bridal couple, thrown on the public stage or banked up in hundreds at a swell reception or party to be crushed and spoiled in an evening."

Notes on Speed.

The maximum speed acquired by the average person in swimming comfortably is thirty-nine inches a second, while oarsmen in an eight oared boat acquire a speed of 197 inches in a second. Skaters average from nine to ten yards a second. The horse can gallop six miles in an hour for a considerable length of time. The swiftest dog in the world, the borzoi, or Russian wolfhound, has made record runs at the rate of seventy-five feet in a second, while the gazelle has shown measured speed of more than eighty feet a second, which would give it a speed of 4,800 feet in a minute if it could keep it up. The whale struck by a harpoon has been known to dive at the rate of 300 yards a minute. A species of falcon known as the wandering falcon flies from north Africa to northern Germany in one unbroken flight, making the distance in eleven hours.

Rules of Sleep.

Those who think most, who do most brain work, require most sleep, and time "saved" from necessary sleep is infallibly destructive to mind, body and estate. Give yourself, your children, your servants—give all that are under you—the fullest amount of sleep they will take by compelling them to go to bed at some regular early hour and to rise in the morning the moment they awake, and within a fortnight nature, with almost the regularity of the rising sun, will unloose the bonds of sleep the moment enough repose has been secured for the wants of the system. That is the only safe and sufficient rule, and, as to the question how much sleep any one requires, each must be a rule for himself. Great nature will never fail to write it out to the observer under the regulations just given.—London Globe.

Bunched His Blunders.

"John," said Mrs. Bilius after the caller had gone away, "I wish you wouldn't bunch your blunders so."

"What do you mean, Maria?" asked Mr. Bilius.

"I didn't mind your telling her that you were ten years older than I, but you followed it up a minute later by letting it slip out that you were fifty-two."—Chicago Tribune.

Listen.

"Well, Henry, how do you like your neighbors?"

"Not at all; they're so quiet that I daren't move or mamma can't hear what they're saying."—Bon Vivant

A Question of Time.

"How much does it cost to get married?" asked the eager youth.

"That depends entirely on how long you live," replied the sad looking man.—Philadelphia Record.

Tragic Joking.

Oswald's friends were always on the lookout for some ruse. He once notified them that on New Year's day he should get the best of them all in some joke, and New Year's morning each received this notice, "Remember." They were on their guard.

As they were leaving a house where they had breakfasted Oswald slipped on the steps and fell on his back on the sidewalk. His friends rushed to his assistance, but paused before they reached him.

"This is his ruse," some one said.

Clearly the man who was so proud of his talent for mimicry was bent on deceiving them all into thinking him a dying man, for he lay there moaning pitifully, his face drawn and twisted as if with terrible pain.

His friends stood around and made jokes and puns and hummed lines of comic songs, assuring him all the while that they were not deceived by his acting. At last he gave a hoarse, mournful cry, looked at them sadly and then ceased to moan or writhe. In a never to be forgotten moment of horror and sorrow his friends realized that Oswald was dead.—"Souvenirs d'un Vieux Libraire."

Caught the Old Sailor.

It was a clever lawyer in a Boston court who took advantage of the nautical knowledge he possessed to work upon the mind of a juryman who did not seem to show much comprehension of a case of suing a street railway for damages.

The dull member was an old sailor, who, though doubtless very keen of perception along some lines, was nevertheless rather slow in his understanding of the points involved in the case being tried, says the New York Journal. The lawyer noticed this and made his strike with this particular man. Approaching the jury box, he addressed himself to this one juryman and said:

"Mr. Juryman, I will tell you how it happened. The plaintiff was in command of the outward bound open car and stood in her starboard channels. Along came the inward bound closed car, and just as their bows met she jumped the track, sheered to port and knocked the plaintiff off and ran over him."

The sailor was all attention after this version of the affair and joined in a $5,000 verdict for the injured man.

The Clinching Argument.

A young man representing a well known make of motorcar had called, discussed intelligently the points of the automobile he was endeavoring to sell, had given a flawless demonstration—

But the prospective amateur motorist before mortgaging his house still wanted to be thoroughly convinced, and so he said: "What you say about your car may be all right. The engine runs very nicely, and it looks good to me, but tell me one thing—have you ever sold any of these cars to your own personal friends?'

The salesman smiled. "Have I? Why, three months ago I was engaged to a girl, and I sold one of these identical cars to my prospective father-in-law!"

"Did you marry the girl?"

"Yes, indeed! I've now got the girl, a contented father-in-law and an enthusiastic customer as well."

He made the sale.—Life.

Mules and Kindness.

"In the fifteen years that I have been connected with societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals in this and other cities I never have received a complaint alleging cruelty to a mule," said the humane looking man. "That immunity of mules from harsh treatment is an interesting question. Why are they immune? There are plenty of mules, even in New York. Does nobody beat them? Does nobody underfeed them? If not, why not? Does a mule show such a decided ability for taking care of himself that his owner is afraid to abuse him, or do men beat mules and escape punishment because the persons who witness the beating think it is only a mule and not worth bothering about? What is the explanation of that phase of the mule question anyhow?"—New York Press.

To Rest His Eyes.

The people who quit reading "just to rest their eyes" might take a hint by inference from the reply made by an old illiterate. A passing man found him apparently deeply interested in a paper.

On looking close it became apparent that his paper was upside down, and he was asked forthwith why he held it thus.

His reply almost knocked the questioner out. It was:

"Just to rest my eyes!"

A Reversal.

"I suppose you talked a lot of nonsense to your wife before you were married."

"Yes," answered Mr. Meekton. "Before we were married she thought my nonsense sensible. Now when I try to talk sense she thinks it's nonsense."—Exchange.

Inspiring Air.

He—So you think married life ought to be one grand, sweet song? She—Yes. He—And what air would you prefer for this matrimonial song? She—A millionaire!

Reciprocal Help.

Doctor—Well, my good woman, what do you want? Beggar—A quarter, doctor. Give me a quarter and I'll tell everybody that you helped me.

Death is the golden key that opens the palace of eternity.—Milton.

Register's Notices.

The following accounts have been examined, passed and filed in the Register's Office for the inspection of heirs and legatees, creditors and all others in anywise interested, and will be presented to the Orphans' Court of Centre County for confirmation on Wednesday, the 2nd day of March, 1910.

1. The first and final Account of Frank Weber, Executor of the last Will and Testament of Matilda Richards, late of Philipsburg Borough, deceased.

2. The first and final Account of Robert Smith, Executor of &c., of Rebecca S. Heckman, late of Gregg Township, deceased.

3. The first and final Account of Adam F. Heckman, Executor of the last Will and Testament of John F. Heckman, late of Gregg Township, deceased.

4. The first and final Account of Vinton Beckwith, Executor of the last Will and Testament of Thomas Cowher, late of Taylor Township, deceased.

5. The first and final Account of Samuel C. Bower, Administrator of &c., of Frederick S. Bower, late of Howard Township, deceased.

6. The second and final Account of Isaac Orndorf, Executor of the last Will and Testament of Benjamin Orndorf, late of Harris Township, deceased.

7. The first and final account of Peter B. Hartman, Executor of the last Will and Testament of Edward Straub, late of Benner Township, deceased.

8. The first and final Account of James H. Weaver, Administrator of etc., of all and singular the goods and chattels, rights and credits, which were of John Hull, late of Patton Township, deceased.

9. The first and final Account of Hannah J. Long and Frank M. Fisher, Administrators of &c., of Isaac Long, late of Gregg Township, deceased.

10. The first and final Account of Blanche McClincey, Administratrix of &c., of the estate of George McClincey, late of Union Township, deceased.

11. The first and final Account of A. W. Ulrich, Executor of the estate of Daniel Ulrich, late of Millheim Borough, deceased.

12. The first and final Account of W. J. Carlin, Administrator of S. L. Strohecker, late of Miles Township, deceased.

13. The first and final Account of Frank M. Fisher, Trustee appointed by the Orphans' Court of Centre, for the sale of the real estate of Isaac Long, late of Gregg Township, deceased.

14. The first and final Account of Josephine Sexton, Administratrix of Thomas J. Sexton, late of Bellefonte Borough, deceased.

15. The first and final Account of Virginia S. Feidt, executrix of Mary Smith, late of Bellefonte Borough, deceased.

16. The first and final Account of William Showers, Administrator of etc., of Samuel Showers, late of Walker Township, deceased.

17. The first and final Account of A. E. Bartges, Administrator, c. t. a., of W. R. Henney, late of Millheim Borough, deceased.

18. The first and final Account of William B. Mingle and Anna C. Allison, Executors of the last will and testament of Mary M. Allison, late of Centre Hall Borough, deceased.

19. The first and final Account of Reuben P. Miller, Trustee appointed by the Orphans' Court of Centre County, under the last will and Testament of Angeline Miller, late of Spring Township, deceased.

20. The second Account of the Fidelity Trust Company, Executor of the will of E. J. Pruner, deceased.

21. The first and final Account of J. P. Coburn, trustee of D. C. Stine, as filed by J. Coburn Rogers and H. C. Quigley, executors of J. P. Coburn, deceased.

22. The first Account of J. Coburn Rogers and H. C. Quigley, executors of J. P. Coburn, late of Bellefonte borough, deceased.

23. The first and final account of W. E. Reed, executor of etc. of Jacob S. Reed, late of Ferguson township, deceased.

EARLE C. TUTEN,
Register.

Register's Office
Bellefonte, Pa., Feb. 2, 1910.

Court Proclamation!

Whereas the Honorable Ellis L. Orvis, President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of the 49th Judicial District, consisting of the county of Centre, having issued his precept, bearing date the 28th. day of December, 1909, to me directed for holding in Court of Common Pleas, Orphans' Court, Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery, in Bellefonte, for the county of Centre, and to commence on the being the 28th. day of February, 1910, and to continue two weeks.

FOURTH MONDAY OF FEBRUARY,

NOTICE is hereby given to the Coroner, Justices of the Peace, Aldermen and Constables of said county of Centre, that they be then and there in their proper persons at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of the 28th., with their records, inquisitions, examinations and their own remembrances, to do those things which to their office appertains to be done, and those who are bound in recognizances, to prosecute against the prisoners that are or shall be in the jail of Centre county, be then and there to prosecute against them as shall be just.

Given under my hand, at Bellefonte, the first day of February, in the year of our Lord, 1910, and the one hundred and thirty-fourth year of the Independence of the United States of America.

W. E. HURLEY,
Sheriff.

Sheriff's Office,
Bellefonte, Pa., Feb. 1st. 1910. 2-3-4t

"My child was burned terribly about the face, neck and chest. I applied Dr. Thomas' Electic Oil. The pain ceased and the child sank into a restful sleep." Mrs. Nancy M. Hansom, Hamburg, N. Y.

A Lucky Church.

Talking about the enormous profits of the railways and the corporations and the so-called trusts, what shall be said of the magnificent gain realized by the Fourth Avenue Presbyterian Church, of New York, by the recent sale of its property? The church bought the site in 1853 for $45,000 and has just sold it for $660,000. The New York papers also recently reported that $3,800 had been paid by a wealthy book collector for a very rare pamphlet of thirty-two pages, one of Poe's stories issued in 1843 at twelve and a half cents. This is a fabulous increase in price, but such things are constantly happening, and those who profit by them regard the transaction with entire complacency, the muck-rakers to the contrary notwithstanding.—Leslie's.

Read "The Republican." $1.00 per year in advance.

Don't use harsh physics. The reaction weakens the bowels, leads to chronic constipation. Get Doan's Regulets. They operate easily, tone the stomach, cure constipation.

Dyspepsia is our national ailment. Burdock Blood Bitters is the national cure for it. It strengthens stomach membranes, promotes flow of digestive juices, purifies the blood, builds you up

"I have been somewhat costive, but Doan's Regulates gave just the results desired. They act mildy and regulate the bowels perfectly."-George B. Krause, 306 Walnut Ave., Altoona, Pa.

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of a writ of Fieri Facias issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Centre County, Pa., and to me directed, there will be exposed to public sale at the Court House in the borough of Bellefonte, Pa., on at 1:30 o'clock P. M., the following described real estate:

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 28th. 1910,

All those certain messuages, tenements and tracts of land situate in the townships of Snow Shoe, Burnside, and Curtin, in the county of Centre, and State of Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows, to wit:

One thereof surveyed August 16, 1794, on a warrant dated April 29, 1793, granted to Alexander Greaves as containing four hundred and thirty-three acres and 163 perches; one thereof surveyed August 16, 1794, in pursuance of a warrant dated April 29, 1793, granted to Joseph Morris, as containing four hundred and thirty-three acres and 163 perches; another thereof surveyed May 16, 1794, in pursuance of a warrant dated November 26, 1793, granted to Peter Dehaven, containing two hundred and eight, being part of a tract of 415 acres; another thereof surveyed May 16, 1794, in pursuance of a warrant dated November 26, 1793, granted to Cadwallader Evans, containing three hundred and eleven acres, being part of original survey of 415 acres; another thereof surveyed Oct. 22, 1794, on a warrant dated November 26, 1793, granted to William Elliott, as containing four hundred and fifteen acres; another thereof surveyed May 16, 1794, on a warrant dated November 26, 1793, granted to Caleb Lownes, containing two hundred and seven and one-half acres, being one-half original survey of 415 acres; another thereof surveyed April 2, 1794, on a warrant dated November 26, 1793, granted to Isaac Longstreth, containing two hundred and seven and one-half acres, being one-half original survey of 415 acres; another thereof surveyed ——— in pursuance of a warrant dated ———, granted to John S. Mason, containing seventy acres; another thereof surveyed June 18, 1863, on a warrant dated May 19, 1863, granted to George D. Hess, as containing one hundred and seventy acres and 150 perches; another thereof surveyed Dec. 18, 1861, on a warrant dated November 17, 1860, granted to James A. Quigley, containing one hundred and seventy-five acres; another thereof surveyed September 6, 1794, on a warrant dated April 15, 1794, granted to Hugh Dalton, as containing four hundred and thirty-four acres; another thereof surveyed September 6, 1794, on a warrant dated April 15, 1794, granted to George Dalton, as containing four hundred and thirty-four acres; another thereof surveyed September 6, 1794, on a warrant granted to James Dobson, dated April 15, 1794, as containing four hundred and thirty-four acres; another thereof surveyed September 6, 1794, on a warrant granted to Samuel Dobson, dated April 15, 1794, as containing four hundred and thirty-four acres; another thereof surveyed Aug. 21, 1794, on a warrant dated April 29, 1793, granted to George Eddy, as containing four hundred and thirty-three acres; another thereof surveyed June 14, 1850, on a warrant granted to Jas. T. Hale, dated May 29, 1850, as containing four hundred and thirty-three acres; another thereof surveyed June 15, 1850, on a warrant granted to Samuel Linn, dated May 29, 1850, as containing four hundred and thirty-three acres and 153 perches; another thereof surveyed Aug. 18, 1794, on a warrant granted to Benjamin R. Morgan, dated April 29, 1793, as containing four hundred and thirty-three acres and 163 perches; another thereof surveyed June 15, 1850, on a warrant granted to James McManus, dated May 29, 1850, as containing four hundred and thirty-three acres; another thereof surveyed November 30, 1853, on a warrant granted to M. T. Milliken, dated November 21, 1853, as containing four hundred and fifteen acres; another thereof surveyed Nov. 22, 1853, on a warrant granted to N. J. Mitchell, dated Nov. 11, 1853, as containing four hundred and nine acres and 73 perches; another thereof surveyed Aug. 21, 1794, on a warrant dated April 29, 1793, granted to William Parker, as containing four hundred and thirty three acres and 153 perches; another thereof surveyed Aug. 27, 1794, granted to Benjamin H. Tallman, as containing four hundred and thirty-three acres and 163 perches; another thereof surveyed Dec. 1, 1853, granted to Abraham S. Valentine, as containing four hundred and fifteen acres; another thereof surveyed Aug. 27, 1794, on a warrant granted to Rebecca Waln, dated April 27, 1794, as containing four hundred and fifteen acres; another thereof surveyed Aug. 21, 1794, on a warrant dated April 29, 1793, granted to Moore Wharton, as containing four hundred and thirty-three acres and 163 perches; another thereof surveyed Aug. 25, 1794, on a warrant dated April 27, 1793, granted to Elizabeth Wharton, as containing four hundred and fifteen acres; another thereof in warrantee name of James T. Hale, containing fifty acres; another thereof surveyed April 7, 1857, on a warrant granted Edgar Holt, dated July 22, 1853, containing four hundred and twenty acres and allowance; another thereof surveyed Aug. 21, 1794, on a warrant dated April 29, 1793, granted to Robert Waters, as containing four hundred and thirty-three acres and 163 perches; another thereof surveyed Aug. 18, 1794, as containing four hundred and thirty three acres and 163 perches, on a warrant dated April 29, 1793, granted to Kearney Wharton; another thereof surveyed Aug. 16, 1794, as containing four hundred and thirty three acres and 163 perches, on a warrant dated April 29, 1793, granted to Samuel Pancoast; another thereof surveyed Aug. 16, 1794, as containing four hundred and fifteen acres, on a warrant dated April 29, 1793, granted to Elly Canby; another thereof surveyed Aug. 13, 1794, as containing four hundred and thirty-three acres and 163 perches, on a warrant dated April 29, 1793, granted to John Rugg; another thereof surveyed Aug. 13, 1794, as containing three hundred and seventy-nine and three-fourths acres, on a warrant dated April 29, 1793, granted to David Lewis; another thereof surveyed Aug. 13, 1794, as containing four hundred and thirty-three acres and 163 perches, on a warrant dated April 29, 1793, granted to Richard Waln; another thereof, surveyed Aug. 17, 1794, as containing four hundred and fifteen acres, on a warrant dated April 27, 1793, granted to John Shym; another thereof, surveyed Aug. 27, 1794, on a warrant dated April 27, 1793, granted to John Barron, as containing four hundred and fifteen acres; and another thereof surveyed Dec. 8, 1854, as containing three hundred and ninety seven acres and 149 perches, on a warrant dated Dec. 1, 1854, granted to John S. Furst.

And also all the following described tracts of land situate in Snow Shoe township, Centre county, beginning at the "Stob Hill Maple" south-west corner of the James Dobson survey, and about seventeen hundred and fifty feet south from Big Sandy Creek, along the west line of the said James Dobson, (said point being located from two sugars): thence south eighty six degrees fifteen minutes east, eight thousand seven hundred and one feet to a white oak of 1792; thence south eighty four degrees fifty minutes east, five thousand three hundred and five feet; thence south eighty-five degrees east, five thousand four hundred and fifty-one feet; thence north four degrees thirty minutes east, eight thousand one hundred and ninety-seven feet to the above mentioned "Stob Hill Maple," the place of beginning; thence north four degrees forty-five minutes east, three thousand seven hundred and ten feet to a white oak corner of 1794; thence north five degrees four minutes east, four thousand three hundred and fifty-six feet to post and stones, corner on line between Jeremiah Parker and Hugh Dalton; thence south eighty-five degrees east, ten thousand five hundred and sixty feet to a white oak of 1794; thence south five degrees west, four thousand three hundred and fifty-six feet to a post; thence south five degrees west, three thousand seven hundred and twelve and five tenths feet to a white pine marked 1794; thence still south five degrees west, five hundred feet; thence north eighty-five degrees west, five thousand two hundred and eighty feet to line dividing Alexander J. Dallas and Joseph Dobson; thence by said line north five degrees east five hundred feet to corner of James Dobson, Samuel Dobson, Joseph Dobson and Alexander J. Dallas; thence north eighty-five degrees west, five thousand two hundred and eighty feet to the "Stob Hill Maple," the point of beginning; containing two thousand and sixteen acres.

All the foregoing tracts and parts of tracts of land being the same lands conveyed to Samuel Saylor by deeds of W. E. Gray, et ux., J. G. Love et ux. and the Snow Shoe Land and Coal Company, the two first being dated April 30, 1902, and the latter dated Sept. 1, 1902, and conveyed to Samuel Saylor by William P. Mitchell et ux., by deed dated July 27, 1905, and by deed of John J. Bower and wife to Samuel Saylor, dated the ——— day of ——— 1908, and by deed of Mrs. ——— Long, dated ——— 1907, for the Edgar Holt tract; together with all the buildings, improvements, mines, mine cars, rails and fixtures on said lands erected and appurtenances thereto.

Seized, taken in execution and to be sold as the property of Samuel Saylor.

TERMS OF SALE—No deed will be acknowledged until purchase money is paid in full.

W. E. HURLEY,
Sheriff.

Sheriff's Office,
Bellefonte, Pa., Jan. 29, 1910. 2-3-3t.

—Try Admiral Coffee.

Don't forget that Green's soda fountain is running the year 'round.

FOLEY'S ORINO LAXATIVE
FOR STOMACH TROUBLE AND CONSTIPATION

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of a writ of Levari Facias issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Centre County, Pennsylvania, and to me directed there will be exposed to public sale at the Court House, in the Borough of Bellefonte, Pa., on

MONDAY, FEBRUARY, 28th, 1910,

at 1:30 P. M., the following described real estate to wit:

All that certain lot or piece of ground situate on Curtin Street in the Borough of Bellefonte, Centre County, Penna., bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at a point on the south side of Curtin Street, 50 feet west from Cowdrick alley; thence southeast along land of or formerly of J. C. Harper on the East, 200 feet to an alley; thence southeast along said alley 50 feet to lot of or formerly of said F. E. Bible; thence northeast along lot of or formerly of said F. E. Bible, 200 feet to Curtin Street; thence southeast 50 feet to the place of beginning; being the same premises which J. L. Spangler by his deed dated September 11, 1882, and recorded in Deed Book "U-2," page 105, etc., granted and conveyed unto O. L. Hoover, A. M. Hoover and Belia J. Hoover. And the said O. L. Hoover by his deed dated April 10th, 1884, and recorded in Deed Book "Y-2," page 253, granted and conveyed his undivided one-third part in said premises to the said A. M. Hoover. And the said A. M. Hoover and Belia J. Hoover by their deeds dated the 8th day of November, 1884, and recorded in Deed Book "Y-2," pages 253 and 254, granted and conveyed respectively their undivided two-thirds and one-third interest in said premises to the said Ada T. Hoover party hereto as relation unto the said deeds being had will more fully and at large appear.

Seized, taken in execution, and to be sold as the property of Ada T. Hoover and Augustus M. Hoover, defendants, and H. R. Krape and B. Wallace, the persons whose names are added as the persons found in possession of the premises.

TERMS OF SALE.—No deed will be acknowledged until purchase money is paid in full.

Sheriff's Office W. E. HURLEY,
Bellefonte, Pa., Feb 4, 1910. Sheriff.
2-10-3t

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of a writ of Fieri Facias issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Centre county, Pa., and to me directed, there will be exposed to public sale at the Court House, in the borough of Bellefonte, Pa., on at 1:30 o'clock P. M. the following described real estate to wit:

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 28th, 1910,

All that certain lot or piece of land situate in Miles township, County of Centre, and State of Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at a stone in public road leading to Meyer's Mill, (now Hockman's) being a corner of Wm. Bierly's land; thence by land of Wm. Meyer, South 12¼ deg. East 8 perches to stone; thence by land of Samuel Condo Jr., (now Aaron Smull) North 75¼ deg. East 5 perches to stones; thence by same North 12¼ deg. West 8 perches to stones at said road; thence by said public road, South 75¼ deg. West 5 perches to the place of beginning, containing 40 Perches net measure.

Seized, taken in execution and to be sold as the property of C. E. and Rebecca Henry.

TERMS OF SALE:—No deed will be acknowledged until the purchase money is paid in full.

W. E. HURLEY,
Sheriff.

Sheriff's Office.
Bellefonte, Pa., Feb. 1st., 1910. 2-3-3t

Election Notice.

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to a vote of the Board of Directors of the School District of Bellefonte, there will be submitted to the electors of the borough at the municipal election to be held in and for said borough on Tuesday the 15th day of February 1910, for the purpose of obtaining the assent of the electors of the said district in making a valid and giving binding effect to the first increase of the debt, to wit: $32,000.00 for the erection and construction of the new High School building. Notice is also hereby given that the amount of the last assessed valuation of taxable property in the said borough of Bellefonte, as adjusted for 1909, is $1,653,804.00.

Old debt contracted before 1873.	$25,000.00
Less Sinking fund,	5,000.00
Balance of old debt,	$20,000.00
Debt contracted by assent of the voters at an election held August 17th, 1909.	$33,000.00
Amount of the debt proposed to be made valid	$32,000.00

Which said sum is less than two percent of the assessed valuation or one and thirteen-fourteenths per cent on the assessed valuation of $1,653,804.00.

The purpose for which the indebtedness was created and the money obtained was used in the erection and construction of the new High School building.

By order of the Board.

HENRY C. QUIGLEY,
President.
JAMES K. BARNHART,
Secretary. 1-13-3t.

Auditor's Notice.

The undersigned, an Auditor appointed by the Orphans' Court of Centre County, Pennsylvania, to make distribution of the balance of the money, as shown by the first and final account of W. I. Harter, administrator of etc. of Fannie Nestlerode, late of Liberty Township, deceased, to and among those entitled thereto, will meet all parties interested at his office in the Borough of Bellefonte, Centre County, Pennsylvania, on Thursday, the 17th day of February, A. D. 1910, at 10 o'clock A. M. Parties interested will please attend.

CLEMENT DALE. W. C. HEINLE.
1-27-3t Attorney. Auditor.

If you want all the news read "The Republican," $1 a year in advance.

Notice to Satisfy a Mortgage.

IN RE

Application for the satisfaction of a certain mortgage recorded in the office for the recording of deeds, etc, in and for the County of Centre in Mortgage Book "A", page 105, etc., given by Andrew Glenn to David Lenox, Attorney in Fact for Malcolm Ross,

In the Court of Common Pleas of Centre County. No. February Term, 1910.

To David Lenox, Attorney in Fact for Malcolm Ross, and Malcolm Ross, the mortgagee mentioned in the above named mortgage, and to any and all holders thereof:

Notice is hereby given that an application has been made to the Court of Common Pleas of Centre County under the Act of Assembly governing such cases, to show cause why you should not satisfy a certain mortgage dated the 20th day of November, A. D. 1865, given by Andrew Glenn to secure the payment of $125.34 to David Lenox, Attorney in Fact for Malcolm Ross, on a certain tract or piece of land called "Tain" situate in Nittany Valley in Bald Eagle (now Spring) Township, formerly in the County of Northumberland, now in the County of Centre and State of Pennsylvania, containing two hundred sixty-eight acres and thirty perches and allowance, and to appear at February Term, 1910, to answer the petition of Sarah A. Hartsock, Jesse J. Hartsock and Harry P. Hartsock, all of Altoona, Pa., and John W. Garbrick of Spring Township, Centre County, Pa., to show cause why said mortgage should not be satisfied of record.

W. E. HURLEY,
Sheriff.

Sheriff's Office.
Bellefonte, Pa. January 26, 1910. 1-27-3t

Notice to Satisfy a Recognizance.

IN RE

Application for the satisfaction of a certain recognizance recorded in the Orphans' Court of Centre County in Orphans' Court Docket "B", page 157, given by Henry Swartz to the heirs of George Swartz, deceased.

In the Orphans' Court of Centre County. No. February Term, 1910.

To George Swartz, David Swartz, Jacob Swartz, John Swartz, Michael Swartz, Andrew Swartz, William Swartz, Margaret, inter-married with Henry Dunmire, Sarah, inter-married with John Denlus, Catherine, inter-married with John Dauberman, and Eve, inter-married with Daniel Moore, parties interested in the above-named recognizance, and to any and all others interested:

Notice is hereby given that an application has been made to the Orphans' Court of Centre County under the Act of Assembly governing such cases, to show cause why you should not satisfy a certain recognizance dated the 26th day of January, A. D. 1831, and recorded in Centre County in Orphans' Court Docket "B", page 157, given by Henry Swartz to secure the payment of the legal interest on $1221.67 during the natural life of Susanna Swartz, widow of George Swartz, Sr., and the payment to George Swartz, David Swartz, Jacob Swartz, John Swartz, Michael Swartz, Andrew Swartz, William Swartz, Margaret, inter-married with Henry Dunmire, Sarah, inter-married with John Denlus, Catharine, inter-married with John Dauberman, and Eve, inter-married with Daniel Moore, the sum of $305.42 each. Said real estate encumbered by said recognizance being situate in the Township of Spring, County of Centre and State of Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows, to wit: By lands now or formerly of George Hoy on the South, lands now or formerly of James McClellan on the West, lands now or formerly of John Rockey on the North, and lands now or formerly of Jacob Gill and James Gordon on the East. Containing 305 acres and 67 perches, and to appear at the February Term, 1910, to answer the petition of Sarah A. Hartsock, widow, Jesse J. Hartsock and Harry P. Hartsock, all of Altoona, Pa., and John W. Garbrick of Spring Township, Centre County, Pennsylvania, and to show cause why the said recognizance should not be satisfied of record.

W. E. HURLEY,
Sheriff.

Sheriff's Office
Bellefonte, Pa., January 25, 1910. 1-27-3t

OVER 65 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
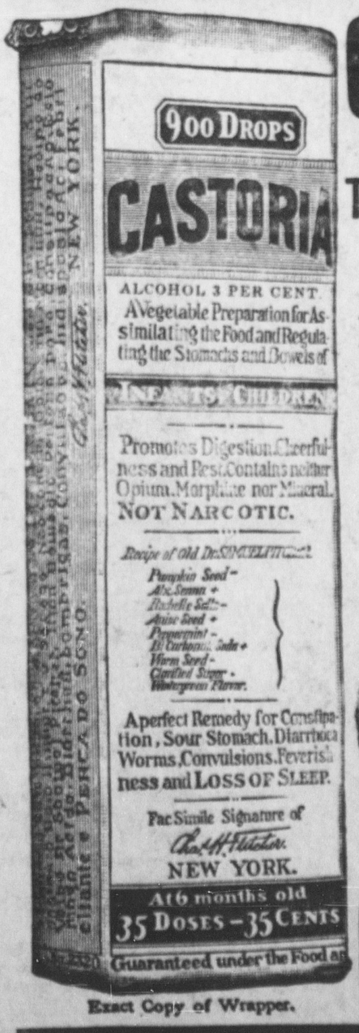
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.



900 DROPS
CASTORIA
ALCOHOL 3 PER CENT.
A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.
Recipe of Old Dr. SAMUEL PITCHER
A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Fac Simile Signature of
NEW YORK.
At 6 months old
35 DOSES – 35 CENTS
Guaranteed under the Food an Exact Copy of Wrapper.

A RARE COIN.

It Is Called a "Misstrike" and Is Very Seldom Seen.

"See this penny I got today at the postoffice," said the cashier. "There aren't five other pennies like it in the United States."

He handed out a cent piece with the die impression half off the face of the coin and with a big half moon of blank metal showing along one side.

"They call it a misstrike," he continued. "Perhaps once in 10,000,000 times the two little notched fingers on the minting machines that grip the blank disk and draw it forward to the die fail to spring away. In this case the left hand finger stuck and pushed the coin halfway over the die. That is how the impression is only half on the disk.

"You can see the raised edge on the blank portion of the metal," the cashier went on as he took up his pen. "It isn't everybody knows that each coin goes under the dies twice. The first time it is struck with a blank, dome shaped set of dies to put an edge on the disk. Then it gets the regular die with the familiar head on it.

"What's it worth? Oh, I'll say probably $25 or so. I see it's been in circulation for nine years. It's a wonder some coin collector hasn't nabbed it. I'm going to keep it as a rarity."—New York Times.

SENSE OF HEARING.

Sound Waves and the Way They Act Upon the Ears.

The detection of the direction of a sound by the sense of hearing is, like the rapid focusing of the eye on objects at different distances, one of those instinctive operations which are continually done without any conscious method.

Sound waves traverse the air as ripples stir the water, and the ear by experience acquires some slight power of detecting the direction in one case, as the eye does with far greater accuracy in the other. Usually we unconsciously receive assistance from other senses as well. Often we fail to locate at once some hidden source of sound, such as a singing bird, and then our instinctive ingenuity displays itself.

The intensity of sound is, of course, by no means so great behind a screen as in front of it, and every one carries with him the screen of his own head, which may prevent a particular sound from being heard so well by one ear as by the other. If, then, the head is turned until this inequality disappears and both ears hear equally well we know that we must be directly facing or turned from the source of sound, and our previous rough idea of its whereabouts generally prompts us to face it.

Wind and Temper.

There is a closer connection between wind and temper than at first sight appears. A coldish wind has a bracing effect and, on the whole, is beneficial. In countries where hot winds occur periodically, on the other hand, these are regarded as a nuisance, if not a curse. Every one almost gets cross, weary and done up and has a headache daily. In Egypt the season when crimes are commonest is when the hot khamseen blows. Nearly always during a severe sirocco the Arabs in Algeria were restless, if they did not attempt an actual rising. The solano, which now and then rushes across the Mediterranean in fiery blasts from Africa, upsets every one in Spain and is the worst wind in that country. And even in the Pearl of the Antilles the fierce hot wind is such a pest that it is recorded of a family living in Havana that they made it a rule in the household to preserve absolute silence until the wind disappeared. It was the only plan they could think of to avoid family quarrels.

Profane History.

"Pop!"

"Well, what is it now? If it's foolish question No. 9,697 I'll spank you and put you to bed."

"No, pop; I just want to know what is profane history."

"Profane history, eh? Well—it's—it's just a term to distinguish it from sacred history."

"But why is it called profane, pop?"

"How the—that is, how do I know! I suppose it—say, you know when little George Washington cut down his father's pet cherry tree?"

"Yes, pop."

"Well, what little Georgie's father said to little Georgie is profane history. I should think you could get your lessons without bothering me with your fool questions."—New York Times.

Encouraging.

A Philadelphia clergyman tells of an incident in connection with his first visit to a town in Pennsylvania, where he expected to be called as pastor.

While tramping along a dusty road he was so fortunate as to encounter a man in a wagon who gave him a lift. During the conversation that ensued between the two the divine chanced to ask:

"Do the folks hereabout enjoy religion?"

"I don't know exactly," replied his companion, "but I s'pose that them that has it enjoys it."

His Angel.

Miss Rogers—How did you imagine anything so beautiful as the angel in your picture? Artist—Got an engaged man to describe his fiancee to me.—Brooklyn Life.

Avarice is to the intellect and heart what sensuality is to the morals.—Jameson.

An Anecdote of General Jackson.

General Jackson while on one of his journeys to Tennessee about the time of the nullification excitement arrived at a Virginian village in a very impatient state of mind, both with public affairs and with the state of the roads. The president was entertained as a guest at the house of a lady in the village, and, although he tried to be polite, the state of vexation which he was in affected him visibly.

His hostess at the supper table was much alarmed to see the general swallowing with great rapidity a cup of almost boiling hot tea.

"Wait—wait, general!" exclaimed the lady. "Let me give you some cold water."

"No, thank you, ma'am," said the general, continuing to drink.

"But I don't see how you can drink that boiling hot tea without scalding yourself."

"No wonder you can't, ma'am," said Jackson. "I am scalding myself."

"But, sir, why do you"—

"Good gracious, ma'am!" exclaimed the general. "Don't you see that I want to scald myself?"

The lady refrained from making any further suggestions as to her distinguished guest's comfort.

Mercury Laden Swords.

Inserting running mercury in the backs of swords was a comparatively common practice among the Italian, French and Spanish swordmakers of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, but it was more of a fancy than anything else, for it never came into general use. It was not, of course, used for rapiers or the lighter kind of swords, but for the heavier cutting swords. The method was to cast the blade rather broader at the back than usual, with a hollow running down it. This was half filled with quicksilver and sealed up. The idea was that when a blow was struck with such a sword the quicksilver would fly to the point and so increase the weight of the blow. This theoretical advantage, however, did not at all counterbalance the general clumsiness of the weapon and its unhandiness in guarding, and so the mercurial swords, as they were called, from which their ingenious inventor hoped so much, were rather military curiosities than practical successes.

Tale of Two Fish.

A story is related of a Manchester fisherman who once tried to lure the dainty trout from some of the nearby brooks. The fisherman did not get a bite in the brooks. He drove back to Manchester rather disheartened and went to a restaurant to get something to eat. He asked the restaurant keeper if he had any trout and received an affirmative reply. He ordered some of the trout for his supper and then told the proprietor that he might put two or three of the uncooked fish in his fish basket out at the door, as he didn't care to go home and receive the raillery of his friends. The proprietor of the restaurant told one of the clerks to carry out the order, and it was supposed to have been done faithfully.

But the clerk was not very alert, and when the fisherman got home and opened up the fish basket to his astonished wife there reposed two fine salt mackerel, and the fisherman has not got through explaining yet.—Manchester Union.

A Little Too Much.

"A wife has a right to expect much of her husband," remarked the philosophically inclined person musingly.

"Yes, I suppose she has," replied the meek appearing man with wilted looking whiskers. "I suppose she has, but when she expects him to live up, steadily and without swerving, to the motto on her first husband's tombstone I somehow think she is expecting more than she really ought to expect from a common, everyday, earthly man."

Her Nationality.

When small Sigrid made her first appearance in an American school, says Harper's Magazine, she was asked the usual puzzling questions, one of which was:

"What is your nationality, Sigrid?"

"Sigrid tossed her flaxen braids. "I'm an American of Norwegian design," she said promptly.

Discretion.

"You say you left the house this morning and then went back. Don't you know that's unlucky?"

"It would have been a blamed sight unluckier for me if I hadn't gone back."

"Why so?"

"My wife called me."—Lippincott's Magazine.

A Family Affair.

Casey's wife was at the hospital, where she had undergone a serious operation a few days before.

Mrs. Kelley called to inquire as to Mrs. Casey's condition.

"Is she restin' quietly?" Mrs. Kelley asked.

"No, but I am," said Casey.—Exchange.

His Earthly Task.

"Do you think the deacon will be entirely happy in the hereafter?"

"Why not?"

"I fear the good man will feel lonely with no church mortgage to lift."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Felt Good.

"Don't you honestly believe there is more good than evil in the world?"

"Ah! You've found a dollar you didn't know you had, haven't you?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

It takes a sthrong man to be mean, Whin I give a tip 'tis not because I want to, but because I'm afraid of what the waiter 'll think.—Mr. Dooley.

SAVED BY THE KING.

An Incident in the Career of Holbein, the Painter.

There happened an affair in England which might have been fatal to Holbein if the king had not protected him. On the report of his character a nobleman of the first quality wanted one day to see him when he was drawing a figure after the life. Holbein in answer begged his lordship to defer the honor of his visit to another day, which the nobleman took for an affront. He broke open the door and very rudely went upstairs. Holbein, hearing the noise, left his chamber and, meeting the lord at his door, fell into a violent passion and pushed him backward from the top of the stairs to the bottom.

Considering, however, immediately what he had done, he escaped from the tumult he had raised and made the best of his way to the king. The nobleman, much hurt, though not so much as he pretended, was there soon after him, and upon opening his grievance the king ordered Holbein to ask pardon for his offense. But this only irritated the nobleman the more, who would not be satisfied with less than his life, upon which the king sternly replied:

"My lord, you have not now to do with Holbein, but with me. Whatever punishment you may contrive by way of revenge against him shall assuredly be inflicted upon yourself. Remember, pray, my lord, that I can whenever I please make seven lords of seven plowmen, but I cannot make one Holbein even of seven lords."—"Life of Holbein."

WIDTH OF A RIVER.

A Way to Measure It Without the Use of Instruments.

It is necessary to make use only of the eyes and the brim of a hat to measure the width of any ordinary stream or even of a good sized river, and here is the way to do it:

Select a part of the river bank where the grounds run back level behind you and, standing at the water's edge, fix your eyes on the opposite bank. Now move your hat down over your brow until the edge of the brim is exactly on a line with the water line on the other side. This will give you a visual angle that may be used on any level surface, and if, as has been suggested, the ground on your side of the river be flat you may "lay off" a corresponding distance on it. To do this you have only to hold your head perfectly steady, after getting the angle with your hat brim, supporting your chin with your hand if necessary and turn slowly around until your back is toward the river. Now, take careful note of where your hat brim cuts the level surface of the ground as you look over the latter, and from there you stand to that point will be the width of the river, a distance that may readily be measured by stepping.

If you are careful in all these details you can come within a few feet of the river's width.

Short and Sweet.

Perhaps one of the shortest courtships was that of an eminent jurist. He was on his way to hold court in a town when he met a young woman returning from market.

"How deep is the creek and what did you get for your butter?" asked the judge.

"Up to the knee and ninepence," was the answer as the girl walked on.

The judge pondered over the sensible brevity of the reply, turned his horse, rode back and overtook her.

"I liked your answer just now," he said, "and I like you. I think you would make a good wife. Will you marry me?"

She looked him over and said "Yes."

"Then get up behind me, and we will ride to town and be married."

She did get up behind, and they rode to the courthouse and were made one. It is recorded that, brief though the courtship had been, the marriage proved a pre-eminently happy one.

Disguised Hands Always Bad.

"Here is a truth," says a handwriting expert, "that is as widespread as the ether: A disguised hand always tries to be poorer than the real hand. That axiom is a great help to us experts. For instance, when a letter done in a disguised hand is brought to us we always know that the writer of the letter is in a higher station than the hand would lead us to infer; hence in our detective work we are able to save much valuable time by eliminating all persons socially below the appearance of the letter and concentrating our attention on those only who are above it."

Embarrassing.

"Paw, I want to know what you think the fourth dimension is."

"It's a figure of speech, Tommy, employed to express the idea of the size to which a man feels himself shrinking when the pastor of his church happens to catch him in the act of making a quick sidestep into a saloon."—Chicago Tribune.

A Double Break.

Wife—I saw Mr. Chacer this afternoon, and he looks very bad. What's the matter with him—do you know? Hubby—Compound fracture. Wife—What sort of compound fracture? Hubby—He's broke, and Miss Doughbag, discovering that fact, broke her engagement.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

He Told Her.

"What is it, do you suppose, that keeps the moon in place and prevents it from falling?" asked Araminta.

"I think it must be the beams," replied Charlie softly.

The Color of Water.

The waters of the seas, lakes, rivers and streams in general are very often colored. For instance, the water of the Mediterranean sea is not colorless, but green-blue; also there is a brilliant red river in South America. The St. Lawrence, in Canada, is pale green and the Ottawa golden brown. Where these two rivers meet quite frequently whole broad patches remain unmixed. Here is a gold patch and there a green one. Otherwise than this water reflects the colors of its surroundings, and a so called "Emerald pool" in the White mountains is green because the birches on its borders in early summer are brilliant green. The Blue grotto, in Capri, Italy, shows a remarkably rich color, near to green-blue, because all the light received in that grotto comes through the water at its entrance, and, as has been said, the Mediterranean is green-blue. The water of the geysers in the Yellowstone park are also colored by natural mineral dyes. You can dye your own glass of water by a piece of the bloodroot plant. Try it. That will be a vegetable dye.—St. Nicholas.

Paderewski's Distinction.

There was a day when Paderewski's English was not fluent. One evening before a choice company in his elegant apartments in New York he was showing a few highly flattered callers how to do this, that and t'other on the keys of his grand piano, explaining in bad English as he went. Of course the man was present who is ever ready to supply a word when a speaker hesitates. The famous artist, landing with both hands as if he had just dropped from the ceiling, exclaimed, "Harmony!" All applauded the perfect concord. He shot down again like a tripbammer and would have exclaimed again, but the word refused to come. "What you call—er—er"— "Discord," put in the supplier of words. Paderewski's hair stood straight out, and his face was white and red with anger. Jumping up from the stool, he sputtered: "Deescort! No! With me a deescort iss eempossible!" He would not be persuaded to touch the instrument again that night. The unintentional insult struck deep.

No Sense of Humor.

"Fog Eye" Smith of northwest Wyoming bore an appalling facade. His style of beauty was a blight. Depending upon his horrific exterior, he was in the habit of trying to awe newcomers. On one occasion, affecting some displeasure at the manner in which a pallid stranger watered his liquor, Mr. Smith announced, frowning, that unless he detected immediate amendment he would send the neophyte home in a market basket. "Which I'll sure tear you up a whole lot," said Fog Eye. Half an hour later Mr. Fog Eye was found groping about on the floor under the poker table hunting for his glass eye and muttering to himself. The stranger asked with some evidence of impatience what new line of sentiments Mr. Smith was now harboring. That injured resident, glaring malevolently from beneath the furniture, replied, "Which I sure do hate a man with no sense of humor."—Argonaut.

Origin of "Watered Stock."

The expression "watered stock," which describes so well the expansion of the stock of a company beyond the value of the property, originated, it is said, in connection with Daniel Drew, who was once the wealthiest and most unique manipulator in Wall street. Drew had been a drover in his younger days, and it was said of him that before selling his cattle in the market he would first give them large quantities of salt to make them thirsty and then provide them with all the water they could drink. In this way their weight was greatly increased, and the purchaser was buying "watered stock."

Hypocrites.

"I despise a hypocrite," says Boggs.

"So do I," says Cloggs. "Now, take Knoggs, for example. He's the biggest hypocrite on earth. I despise that man."

"But you appear to be his best friend."

"Oh, yes. I try to appear friendly toward him. It pays better in the end."

The Final Transaction.

"Father," said little Rollo, "what is the ultimate consumer?"

"He is the last person, my son, that an article reaches in its commercial existence."

"I know what you mean. He's a man who goes into a hotel and orders chicken hash."—Washington Star.

Queer Men.

"Some men are so queer!"

"And you are going to tell me of one particularly queer one."

"Yes. It's Mr. Barberton. His wife used to beg him for nickels and dimes, and now he's cheerfully paying her a hundred a week for alimony."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Fearless.

"Whitcomb is an independent thinker."

"He is?"

"Yes; he even dares to say the clock in the railroad station is wrong."—Buffalo Express.

Dying to Tell.

"Jack, Dolly told me the most exciting secret and made me swear never to tell a living soul."

"Well, hurry up with it. I'm late for the office now."

His Status.

"Well, my little man," inquired a visitor pleasantly, "who are you?"

"I'm the baby's brother," was the ingenuous reply.—Truth Seeker.

Danderine

Grows Hair and we can PROVE IT!

DANDERINE is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful. It at once imparts a sparkling brilliancy and velvety softness to the hair, and a few weeks' use will cause new hair to sprout all over the scalp. Use it every day for a short time, after which two or three times a week will be sufficient to complete whatever growth you desire.

A lady from St. Paul writes in substance, as follows:
"When I began using Danderine my hair would not come to my shoulders and now it is away below my hips.

Another from Newark, N. J.
"I have been using Danderine regularly. When I first started to use it I had very little hair, now I have the most beautiful long and thick hair anyone would want to have."

NOW at all druggists in three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

Danderine enjoys a greater sale than any other one preparation regardless of kind or brand, and it has a much greater sale than all of the other hair preparations in the world combined.

Cut This Out — Free To show how quickly Danderine acts, we will send a large sample free by return mail to anyone who sends this free coupon to the KNOWLTON DANDERINE CO. Chicago, Ill. with their name and address and 10c in silver or stamps to pay postage.

Early Iron Works.

In 1658 Captain Thomas Clarke, in company with John Winthrop and others, put in operation an "iron worke" at New Haven, Conn. This enterprise embraced a blast furnace and a refinery forge.

India's Salt Tax.

Representing an average annual payment of 2½ pence per head, a tax on salt is one of the sources of England's revenue in India.

Ram Bux, British Loafer.

A Hindoo baker's assistant in Bombay, on setting up in business for himself, bethought him of catering for the English community as well as for the native one. With this end in view he had the following notification painted over his doorway: "Ram Bux solicits respectful patronage. He is a first class British loafer."

Houses In France.

It has been estimated that there are fewer than a hundred wooden dwelling houses throughout all France. Stone and plaster are the usual materials.

A Month Without a Full Moon.

The month of February, 1866, was the most remarkable month in the world's history. January had two full moons, and so had March, but February had none. This had not occurred since the creation of the world, and, according to some astronomers, the same thing may not occur again for a period of 2,500,000,000 years.

A Waterloo Relic.

Among the curios of Windsor castle is a chair made out of the trunk of the famous elm by which Wellington stood at the battle of Waterloo.

A Potato

Has Eyes,

but it doesn't read this paper. You ought to be different. Don't be a potato. Subscribe now.

Central R. R. of Penna. Train Schedule.

Leave,
Bellefonte for Mill Hall, 7:05 A. M., 2:20 and 6:55 P. M.

Leave,
Mill Hall for Bellefonte, 8:33 A. M., 3:56 and 8:35 P. M.

BELLEFONTE CENTRAL RAILROAD. On and after Monday, Jan. 25th, 1909 trains will run as follows from the P. R. R. station.

TRAINS TO STATE COLLEGE.

	WESTWARD.	1 A. M.	3 A. M.	5. P. M
Lv.	Bellefonte	‡ 8.39	‡ 10.15	‡ 2.00
	Coleville	8.55	10.20	2.07
	Morris	f 8.58	.....	f 2.12
	Stevens	f 9.03	.....	f 2.17
	Hunters Park	f 9.05	.....	f 2.21
	Fillmore	f 9.50	f 10.24	f 2.26
	Briarly	f 9.55	.....	f 2.32
	Waddles	7.00	10.45	2.35
	Krumrine	f 7.12	.....	f 2.50
	State College	7.25	11.10	3.20
	Strubles	f 7.27	.....	.....
	Bloomsdorf	f 7.31	.....	.....
	Pine Grove Mills	7.35	.....	3.40

* Daily. ‡ Daily except Sunday. "f" Stop flag.

TRAINS FROM STATE COLLEGE.

	EASTWARD	2 A. M.	4 A. M.	6 P. M.
Lv.	Pine Grove Mills	7.35	.....	3.20
	Bloomsdorf	f 7.40	.....	.....
	Strubles	f 7.45	.....	f 3.30
	State College	8.00	11.50	3.00
	Krumrine	f 8.07	.....	f 3.07
	Waddles	8.20	12.10	f 3.25
	Briarly	f 8.24	.....	f 3.30
	Fillmore	f 8.28	12.18	f 3.35
	Hunters Park	f 8.31	.....	f 3.40
	Stevens	f 8.35	.....	f 3.43
	Morris	f 8.37	.....	f 3.47
	Coleville	8.40	12.30	3.50
Ar.	Bellefonte	8.50	12.50	4.00

Morning trains from Montandon, Lewisburg, Williamsport, Lock Haven and Tyrone connect with trains No. 3 and 5 for State College. Afternoon trains from Montandon, Lewisburg, Williamsport, Lock Haven and Tyrone connect with train No. 5 for State College. Trains from State College connect with Penns. R. R. trains at Bellefonte to points east and west.

F. H. THOMAS, Supt.

FLORIDA LANDS FOR SALE

Ten Acres of Florida Sunshine.

Will yield you more in dollars and cents than one hundred acres and sleet, and think of the difference in the fuel bill and the comforts of living. What's the use of fighting and fretting and freezing? Write today for convincing information, bank and other endorsements of this greatest money-making opportunity in Florida. Address Tampa Bay Land Company, Tampa, Florida. 1-13-6 t-x.

FLORIDA

WINTER TOURS

VIA

Pennsylvania Railroad.

February 8 and 22, and March 8, 1910.

ROUND $49.60 TRIP From Bellefonte.

Tickets for February Tours good for two weeks; For March Tour good until May 31.

Special Pullman Trains from New York

For particulars consult Ticket Agents, or

J. R. WOOD, Pass. Traffic Manager.

GEO. W. BOYD, Gen'l Pass. Agent, Philadelphia, Pa.

Here and There.

Tuesday will be election day.

W. H. Derstine is recovering from an aggravating attack of grip.

Miss Ada Rumberger, of Philipsburg, is visiting Bellefonte friends.

Miss Louise Armor last week visited her sister, Mrs. Claude Jones, at Tyrone.

Register Earle C. Tuten transacted business in Philipsburg one day last week.

At some points in Bellefonte the thermometer registered three degrees below zero on Sunday night.

The Curwensville "Mountaineer" is advocating the erection of a new Court House for Clearfield County.

The many friends of Miss Minnie Cole will be glad to learn that she is recovering from an attack of the grip.

After a delightful visit with Mrs. Hugh S. Taylor, Miss Hannah Irvin has returned to her home at Philipsburg.

Mrs. W. H. Barr, of Gatesburg, returned home last week after a most delightful visit with her son, L. S. Barr, at Tyrone.

An explosion at the Nittany furnace one day last week shattered quite a few window panes. Fortunately nobody was injured.

F. W. Crider departed on Saturday last, for Philadelphia, where he met Mrs. Crider and this week accompanied her to Florida.

Mrs. Ralph Mallory was in Philadelphia, at the bedside of her mother, who is seriously ill, but returned home on Monday.

Considering the blustery weather on Sunday last, the attraction must have been great to tempt William McFarlane and Milan Walker to visit Lock Haven.

If you don't take the trouble to go to the polls and vote on Tuesday don't stand around all afternoon and complain and point out what should have been done.

Mrs. J. A. Aikens, whose popular store is so attractive to her many patrons, is in Philadelphia and New York this week making selections for the Easter season.

Miss Georgia Steele, whose services as a teacher in one of the College township schools have proved so satisfactory, was an over-Sunday visitor with Bellefonte friends.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Munson and daughter, of Philipsburg, have removed to Fort Smith, Arkansas, where Mr. Munson has engaged in the mercantile business.

Quite a little excitement was caused in Allegheny Street one day last week by the collapse of a part of the barn in the rear of Dr. M. J. Locke's residence. Fortunately no one was injured.

Thomas L. Smith, a Bellefonte boy who is making good in business at State College, was in town over Sunday and very thoughtfully advanced his subscription to "The Republican" another year.

John Hoffer, Jr., came over from Philipsburg to spend Sunday with his father, C. U. Hoffer, who has been in town for several weeks attending to his duties as a member of the Board of Auditors.

George R. Meek, accompanied by his sisters, Misses Mary and Nell, departed on Sunday for New Orleans. Before returning home it is possible that George will take a run over to Cuba and also make a flying visit to Panama.

C. H. Bush, of Fleming, was a pleasant caller at "The Republican" office on Saturday. Mr. Bush is a firm believer in the principle of keeping square with the world and in line with this he squared up with us for his subscription to this paper.

H. N. Walker, of Pine Grove Mills, is one of many to start the new year right by joining the ranks of subscribers to "The Republican." That this newspaper will be a welcome visitor in his home for many years to come is our earnest hope.

Dr. J. Coburn Rogers last Saturday fumigated the Bellefonte Academy as a further protection to the students. Several of the students have had attacks of grip and while it was not deemed necessary, Headmaster Hughes decided to have the building fumigated.

The First National Bank of Bellefonte has been asked by the United Associated Press to act as depository in receiving and remitting funds for the relief of the sufferers by the floods in France. All subscriptions received will be acknowledged by the company's news service throughout North America, and will be promptly remitted by the association to the Paris Y. M. C. A. and Ambassador Bacon. Subscription blanks will be found at the bank.

It is entirely probable that Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sheehe will in the not distant future return to Bellefonte and purchase a small farm nearby town. Mr. Sheehe recently disposed of the Garman House and this week returns to Clearfield, his former home, where he has some property and other business interests. During their stay in Bellefonte Mr. and Mrs. Sheehe formed a liking for our town and its people. They want to come back and make Bellefonte their home and if they conclude to do so they will find that the people here will extend a cordial welcome.

Mrs. A. O. Furst entertained at cards on Tuesday evening.

Philip L. Foster, of State College, was greeting friends in town yesterday.

Rev. H. I. Crow, of Hublersburg, greeted friends in town on Monday.

Lawyer W. Harrison Walker tramsacted legal business of Lock Haven on Monday.

Andrew Shivery took a jolly crowd of twenty-nine young folks to Howard on Monday evening.

M. B. Christy, representing the Standdard Supply Company, of Altoona, was in town between trains on Tuesday.

Colonel and Mrs. Hugh S. Taylor entertained at dinner on Monday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sheehe.

Mitchell I. Gardner is driving a new automobile. His pride in it is entirely justified by the appearance of the car.

W. F. Gunson, representing F. W. Lodge & Company, of Philadelphia, was a business visitor to Bellefonte on Tuesday.

S. E. Goss, general agent for the American Casualty Company, of Reading, transacted business in town this week.

J. E. Decker, who was recently employed at the Pennsylvania freight station, went to Tyrone on Saturday, last, to take his examination.

Fred Swingley, general representative for the Midland Chemical Company, of Dubuque, Iowa, was a business visitor to Bellefonte this week.

C. W. Bosler, chief engineer of the State Highway Department for the central district of Pennsylvania, passed through town on Monday.

J. R. Cronister, of Julian, has resigned his position as school teacher and has gone to Williamsport, where he expects to enter the Potts Short-hand School.

Cornie Garman has concluded to reenter the hotel business. He has one or two hotels in view, but just which he will purchase is a matter still to be decided.

William Garman went up to Tyrone on Monday to see if he could be of any assistance to his brother, Robert, who was one of those to be burned out in the big fire on that day.

Rec. C. W. Winey, the able young pastor of the United Brethren Church, spent several days in Coalport this week, assisting Rev. H. E. Buffington in holding a series of revival meetings.

O. B. Eberts, of Martha Furnace, recently purchased a magnificent gray team from William Galbraith, of Tyrone. He paid $600 for the horses, which are regarded as two of the finest in the county.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Bullock departed on Monday for Philadelphia and New York. While in the city Mr. Bullock will look up the latest styles for the popular Montgomery & Company store.

Mrs. A. O. Furst, Mrs. John Curtin, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Potter and Miss Sarah Potter were among those to attend the Crossman-Thompson wedding, at Lemont, yesterday.

A lady some days since lost a glove on West Linn Street. It was found and the fact advertised in "The Republican." On Tuesday the owner called at this office and received her glove. See the point?

Mr. and Mrs. J. McClellan Davis arrived in Bellefonte from Tyrone this week and have taken possession of the Garman House. Mr. Davis comes well recommended as an up-to-date hotel manager.

Mr. and Mrs John Hinman Gibson are preparing to remove from Lansdowne, near Philadelphia, to New York, to which place Mr. Gibson has been transferred by the United Gas Improve Company. Mrs. Gibson will be recalled as Miss Blanch Cook, of Bellefonte.

Mrs. Theodore Cherry was most delightfully surprised when a number of her friends on Friday night, last, dropped in to spend the evening and remind her of her birthday anniversary. During the evening refreshments were served and all present had a most enjoyable time.

Here's a thank you to W. T. Harper, of Unionville, who thoughtfully dropped in to see us and attend to his subscription to "The Republican." Our hat is off to those who appreciate the fact that a man should pay for his newspaper just as he pays for other things worth while. Come again, Mr. Harper.

With the approach of Spring quite a number of families are planning to move. George Johnson is taking one side of Register Earle C. Tuten's house, on Penn Street. W. I. Fleming will move into his new home, on Spring Street. Morton Smith, who occupies one of the Schad houses, on Spring Street, near Lamb, will move into the house on Curtin Street at present occupied by Claude Herr.

A genial visitor is always welcome. When two genial men drop in at the same time it makes the call all the more delightful. On Tuesday J. W. Guisewhite and I. M. Orndorf, two of Woodward's substantial citizens, paid us a friendly visit. Mr. Guisewhite took occasion to adjust his subscription to "The Republican" before leaving. We trust it will be our good fortune never to say anything in our paper to offend Mr. Guisewhite, since he is big and strong enough to trounce three or four average-sized editors.

William Katz this week moved into his new home, the former quarters of the Elks, opposite the Court House.

Miss Blanche Budinger, of Snow Shoe, was in town shopping and greeting friends, on Saturday, last.

An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stemm, of near Shiloh Church, died on Tuesday night. Interment will be made at Zion tomorrow.

County Commissioners Woodring, Zimmerman and Dunlap are busy this week, visiting the several election districts in the county with the ballots to be used at Tuesday's election.

The Ladies Aid Society of the United Brethren Church will hold a corn soup and oyster supper in their rooms, on Thursday, February 17. All are cordially invited to attend.

Harry McCoy, a Bellefonte boy who is making a success as the Adams Express Company manager at Monongahela City, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCoy, on Thomas Street.

It will be gratifying news to the friends of H. Laird Curtin to learn that he has so far recovered that on Tuesday he was able to come to town between trains. Accompanied by his mother he came up from Curtin on the 4.44 train, returning home on the 8.20 train that night.

An enjoyable time was had on Tuesday evening at a progressive five-hundred given by the Maccabees, in their quarters in the McClain block. Mrs. William Doll won first lady's prize, and Mrs. Jacob Gross, second prize. Harry Holtz won first gentleman's prize, and Charles Noll won second prize.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Hayes are again at Asheville, North Carolina. After first going there they proceeded to Savannah, Georgia, only to find the climate at that place unsatisfactory. They next tried Ormond, Florida, where they remained for several weeks, but last week they returned to their cottage at Asheville.

The many Bellefonte friends of Harry C. Brew, for years one of our valued residents, will be interested to learn that he has been transferred from Pittsburg to the Philadelphia branch of the Fairbanks Scale Company, so that he and Mrs. Brew will make that city their home in the future. Their address will be 4042 Walnut Street. By removing to Philadelphia Mr. and Mrs. Brew are not so far from their daughter, Lulu, now Mrs. Andrew D. Riley, who lives at Plainfield, N. J.

Former Judge and Mrs. John G. Love departed on Sunday, last, for Atlantic City, where they expect to remain for two or three weeks. While he was greatly benefited by his recent trip to Clifton Springs Judge Love was unable to shake off the attack of rheumatism which has been annoying him for some months past. If he finds that Atlantic City does not give him the relief he hopes for, he probably will again go to Clifton Springs and remain there until he is cured.

The services in the United Evangelical Church next Sunday will be of special interest. At 9.30 o'clock in the morning, the Sunday School room with its new metal ceiling, will be thrown open. Those who have not seen it will be surprised at the change in appearance. At 10.30 o'clock A. M. and 7.30 o'clock P. M. Miss Emma D. Messenger, of Lewisburg, will deliver addresses. This will be the anniversary service of the Mission Band and the Young People's Missionary Society. Those who heard Miss Messenger a year ago will be pleased to learn that she is coming again this year. She is a talented young woman and is filled with enthusiasm for missions.

The home of John A. Daley, near Romola, was the scene of a jolly party on Friday evening of last week, two sled loads of young folks from Blanchard Howard and Beech Creek being on hand to have a good time. They were entertained with a splendid supper and thoroughly enjoyed the hospitality of the Daley home. In the party were Misses Elizabeth Linn, Wilda Berry, Stella Earon, Helen Forcey, Minnie Smith, Irene Peters, Verna Glossner, Ruth Trexler; of Beech Creek; Lena Bechdel, Mabel Page, Mae Harter of Blanchard; Helen Tipton, Howard; Rhea Dorey, Lock Haven; Wilbur Glossner, Romola; Charles Batschelet, Fred Salisbury, Ira J. Bitner, Torrence Glossner, Walter Gunsallus, Joseph Earon, Terry Glossner, Jesse Glossner, Beech Creek; Harris Clark, William Ridge, Milton Kunes, Samuel Smith, Blanchard; John Packer, Mill Hall.

Marriage Licenses.

Register Earle C. Tuten has issued the following marriage licenses in the last week:

Ralph G. Hazel	Bellefonte
Maude M. Corman	"
William M. Heaton	Bellefonte
Lena Hoist	Altoona
John H. Shusley	Spring Mills
Mary A. Flory	Centre Hall
George W. Rhoads	Bellefonte
Madeline M. Downing	" "
Lawrence A. Freeman	Bellefonte
Myrtle Longacre	"
James Stokes	Hawk Run
Emma Robert	" "
Louis H. Crossman	N. Yahama, Wash
Elizabeth B. Thompson	Lemont
M. J. Moorhead	Pitcairn
Lucy B. Iddings	Uniontville

LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE

Bellefonte Chapter Organized—Charter Open 30 Days.

A preliminary meeting was held on Saturday, last, to organize what is to be known as the Bellefonte Lodge, No. 206, Loyal Order of Moose. The meeting was held in the Undine Fire Company House, on Bishop Street, and was well attended.

Deputy Supreme Organizer Walter S. Greevy, presided, and, acting under authority vested in him by the supreme organizer, declared the charter of the new Bellefonte lodge open for a period of thirty days from date. Mr. Greevy reviewed the history of the order and explained its objects. All those in attendance were very enthusiastic over its organization and pledged their co-operation to aid in making the Bellefonte lodge one of the largest and best fraternal organizations in the State.

In view of the fact that the charter membership is to remain open for thirty days the membership fee will continue to be $5 during this period. State Organizer R. C. Valentine will be at the Brockerhoff House for the next two weeks and will be glad to meet everybody desiring to make application for membership.

Will Crush Limestone.

Contractor R. B. Taylor, who made a proud record for himself in excavating tons upon tons of limestone for the extension to the rear of the Court House, plans in stalling a stone crusher on Jail Hill and crushing the mammoth pile of stone on hand there. It is possible that some of the stone will be stored for building purposes, but the greater part will be crushed and used in the construction of the extension of the State road through Bellefonte next spring. Work on the State road extension will not be begun for several months.

Delegate to Scotland.

General and Mrs. James A. Beaver are planning a trip abroad in May, expecting to be gone for several months. General Beaver is a delegate to the International Missionary Conference, to be held during the Summer at Edinburgh, and unless some unlooked for emergency arises will be in attendance. He plans sailing on May 31.

M. E. Trustees Reorganize.

The trustees of the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, of Philipsburg, last week held a meeting and reorganized with the election of the following officers: C. T. Fryberger, president; G. C. Irish, secretary; D. Ross Wynn, treasurer. The vacancy in the board caused by the death of the late S. B. Parker will be filled at the next quarterly conference.

EDW. K. RHOADS

At his yard opposite the P. R. R. Passenger Station, sells only,

BEST QUALITIES

—(OF)—

ANTHRACITE and BITUMINOUS

COALS

Also, All Linds of

Wood, Grain, Hay, Straw and Sand.

Superior Screenings for Lime Burning. Builders and Plasterers' Sand.

TELEPHONE CALLS:

Bell 1312
Commercial 422

The Main Thing About FIRE INSURANCE

Is carrying a sufficient amount to really protect your property for after a fire one can only accept the result.

Better see to it that you are fully insured and in a company celebrated for prompt payment of losses; a good reliable company the only kind represented by us.

Also represent The Preferred Accident Insurance company of New York, which issues $5,000 Travel Policy at $12.00 per year.

Harry E. Fenlon

Temple Court - - - Bellefonte, Pa.

Real Estate Bought and Sold,
RENTS COLLECTED.

Bellefonte Trust Company.

CAPITAL, $125,000.00 - - - - - - - SURPLUS, $30,000.00

Call and examine our Savings Department.

Acts as Executor, Administrator, Guardian, Trustee and Assignee.

— OFFICERS —

J. L. Spangler, ... President.
John P. Harris, ... Treasurer.
Ross A. Hickok, . . Vice President.
Isaac Mitchell, Asst. Treas. & Sec'y.

— DIRECTORS —

J. L. Spangler, Ross A. Hickok,
C. T. Gerberich, A. C. Mingle,
J. Henry Cochran, Claude Cook,
John P. Harris.

THIS SPACE

TAKEN BY

? ? ? ?